Board delays 'explosive' fireworks debate

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Village Board agreed to continue its discussion about fireworks until the special meeting on Monday, May 23, at 7 p.m. At that time, the board and onlookers will be treated to a display of non-fireworks.

Confused? Well, the heated debate began after Randy Edwards of Buco's Gameland formally asked the board for permission to sell Class C, "family fireworks" from an outdoor tent or from his video game store.

The village officials could not find a definition of Class C fireworks. However, they were concerned that roman candles would be included in the Class C category.

"We will not sell anything explosive," said Edwards. "You can go into White Hen and buy these items."

Local ordinance forbids the sale of fireworks up to 1/2 mile of the village limits. The problem is in the definition of fireworks.

"The question is, what is a firework?" queried Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. The state definition indicates that sparklers, cigarette loads, and other smoking type devices are not considered fireworks, and therefore legal to sell. One of the village definitions included anything used for a pyrotechnic display, which could be just about anything that is lit with a match.

The board then launched into a discussion of exactly what they would like to use as a definition of fireworks. "The question before the board seems to be a definition of fireworks," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. "I would use the state statute."

"There are some things that the state approves of I have a problem with," said Trustee See FIREWORKS page A10

Local groups go national anti-gambling

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Grassroots anti-gambling organizations from around the nation met last weekend in Chicago to plot strategy, celebrate victories, and to organize. Over 70 people from 24 states met with over 30 local and state anti-gambling groups to organize opposition to the further legalization of gambling in America.

Locally, Leon Booth of Antioch has joined the National Coalition Against Legalized Gambling (NCALG). Booth attended the convention and helped to elect the Reverend Tom Grey, a United Methodist minister, as the national spokesperson.

"This coalition's greatest strength is in its ability to support other organizations and people successfully opposing gambling," said Grey at the conference. "We provide three See GAMBLING page A10

CAUSE resolution put on hold by township

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The request from Citizens Against Unsafe Electricity (CAUSE) for the Antioch Township board to pass a resolution was put on hold to allow time for the township attorney to review the document. The board had a number of questions regarding the resolution.

While CAUSE representatives explained it was simply a request for Antioch Township to adopt an energy saving policy, the resolution included other issues that were not germane to the township.

"To be honest with you," said Supervisor Jim Fields, "you read it to us and I don't understand it."

Part of the resolution included statements regarding the upholding of building codes. The problem is that the township has no authority over such matters.

"Why have that part in the resolution when it is not germane?" asked Trustee Tim Osmond. Even after the explanation Osmond questioned why the township would approve a resolution that essentially says, "We like the building codes."

"We are going to spend a great deal of time if we are going to pass resolutions like this," quipped Osmond.

CAUSE representatives John Bambule and Jim Pierce told the board that the Village of Lake Villa, the Village of Lindenhurst, and Lake Villa Township have all passed the same resolution. They said that the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) has the option of looking at community interest before making a final decision on whether or not the area needs a service upgrade.

CAUSE and Commonwealth Edison has just concluded the testimony phase regarding the question of whether or not the 138 kilowatt service proposed by Edison is needed. CAUSE believes the resolutions from governmental bodies will indicate a willingness to operate at a more energy efficient level, precluding the need for the service upgrade.

Muskie Club to hold children's fishing derby

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Muskie Club is holding a catch-and-release fishing derby on May 22, at Float in Park off Route 173. This national organization's mission is the preservation of gamefish.

The Antioch Rotary Club presented Antioch Chief of Police Charles Miller, a club representative, a check for $200 to help the club along.

"The purpose of our organization is the preservation of gamefish," said Miller. "Not just muskies."

The derby is in its sixth year, and, according to Miller, "We haven't lost one yet." The point of the derby is to encourage the catch-and-release principal to young people. Children are instructed to bring their fish in alive and then the fish are measured. While the largest fish will net the kids prizes, every child will receive something for participating.

"The program teaches kids a lot," said Miller. "It is one of the best youth programs around."

In addition to the derby, a fishing clinic will be held the day before. The Antioch Parks and Recreation Department is offering a great opportunity to fish with the professionals on Saturday, May 21. Learn the secrets about getting the "catch of the day" at the free fishing clinic.

Township approves donation requests

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township approved a number of donation requests last week at the Township meeting last week. In addition, the township is considering inviting a number of organizations to come to the township to provide information to residents regarding the various services provided.

Topping the list of donations, the board approved a request from the 4th of July Committee. This group sponsors the huge 4th of July celebration in Antioch. While the committee requested a donation of $3,500, the board approved a contribution of $1,000. Supervisor Jim Fields reviewed the financial state of the committee before recommending a $1,500 donation.

"Last year we donated the cost of Claude's clown," said Fields referring to Snooky the Clown, which caused a bit of controversy several months ago when Claude LeMere presented his request to the board. A flap arose when Trustee Claudette Skvarce asked LeMere why he had not utilized the services of Antioch's clown club.

After that bit of comic relief, the board had a number of questions regarding this year's celebration. Skvarce suggested that maybe the township should operate a booth. However, that idea was rejected because of the various other time commitment board members have during the event.

"We should participate, but no where near the $3,500 they are asking," said Trustee Tim Osmond. Fields said he would have liked to have the township foot the bill for a petting zoo. However, he said the Committee had rejected that offer last year.

In the end, the board approved a contribution of $1,000. This received unanimous approval of the board.

The board then approved a donation of $850 to Cooperative Extension. According to a letter provided by that organization, 360 township residents were involved in the various programs offered by Cooperative Extension.

The group had requested the $850 donation, which was $100 over last year's contribution. However, the board will include a request to that agency to come out to Antioch Township to offer information about the program and services. Township trustees indicated they would like more residents to become aware of the work of the group.

A Safe Place, a shelter for battered women and children, will receive $1,500. Last year, the shelter assisted 18 township women and children.

Several other donation requests were discussed, however, the requests were put on hold because many of the board members, and even the audience was unaware of the services provided by the groups. A suggestion was made by Trustees Skvarce and Richard Kufalk that representatives from these organizations need to come before the board to provide more information so that a more informed decision can be made.

Steam engine rolls through town, brings back memories

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

For one weekend, curious onlookers were drawn to catch a glimpse of The Milwaukee Road number 291 passenger train roll along the Wisconsin Central tracks from Des Plaines to as far north as Fon du Lac, Wis.

The authentic passenger train was used in conjunction with the Burlington Chocolate Festival. The train made two trips, one on Saturday and one on Sunday. There was a test run also.

"The old steam engine is exciting," said Terri Rossmiller of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce. "People enjoy it very much."

For many, the train gave them memories of the past. For others it was a completely new experience. All along the track the curious lined the tracks to see a piece of history pass by.

"The grandparents wanted to make sure the children got to see it before they all go away," Rossmiller said.

Passengers could choose among packages which included gourmet meals and deluxe desserts or budget plans with a trip to Burlington. The packages ranged from $59 to $129.

The train is one of a kind itself. "It's one of the largest steam trains still in operation," Rossmiller said.

The train ride was only for this weekend. It's been going on for two years with the chocolate fest. The curious have literally rang the phone off the hook for information.

Rossmiller said the train will run again next year. For those interested, call 1-414-763-6044 for more information.

Village, township join on newsletter

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The long awaited newsletter for the township has been finally approved by Antioch Township. Four times a year, the entire Township of Antioch, including the Village of Antioch, will receive news from both the town and the village.

The final details, like editorial control, still need to be hammered out, but the township officials will be placing an insert in the regular village newsletter and township residents should receive it in the beginning of June. This will come in time to inform the entire township of the upcoming 4th of July festivities at Williams Park.

The township insert will include information of the many township services. However, it has been agreed that no political news will be included.

The cost to the township will be $399. The village's share will be $309. The insert will include one two-sided letter. "The village will pay their fair share," Supervisor Jim Fields told the board members.

The only sticking point was editorial control. In a letter to the township, Mayor Marilyn Shineflug indicated that the village would have final editorial control.

Trustee Claudette Skvarce sounded the first alarm. "We should have control over our material," said Skvarce. "We should edit our own. Why aren't we having final review?"

Fields tried to calm the board and told them that if there was ever a problem, he thought a representative from the township could sit down with the village and iron it out.

"I don't see a problem with it," said Fields. "I don't see it as an issue."

However, Trustee Richard Kufalk also saw a problem with it. "I kind of agree," said Kufalk. "If we are paying for it, we should have a right to put in what we want."

While it is unlikely that an editorial problem would ever arise, the Township Board is concerned about how the dispute will be resolved. In the end, the board approved the joint newsletter with the proviso to negotiate the editorial control issue.

"I think it would be good for the township people to get the village letter, and the village people to get the township letter," said Fields.

Hastings YMCA gets donation

The Antioch Rotary Club presented a check for $500 to the Hastings YMCA last week. The club is a generous supporter of many local organizations.

"We have a lot of activity going on there," Margaret Sexton, of Hastings told members of the group. "We have a pool, fitness center, cardio-vascular machine, a residents camp, horsemanship, and a day care program."

Sexton told club members about the facility and grounds, located in Lake Villa. She also told them about the increasing membership.

"We have 3,000 members," said Sexton. "And, 1,000 were added last year. We have plans for developing more programs."—by MARY FOLEY

Waste management contract

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Village Board has voted to approve a four-year extension on the refuse pick-up contract with Waste Management. Added to the contract, however, will be expanded recycling service and possibly leaf vacuuming.

Waste Management will now be picking up magazines, card board, junk mail (no envelopes), #6 plastic, phone books, and chip boards (cereal boxes) for recycling. At the end of the contract, the village will own the recycling bins, but Waste Management will replace any damaged bins during the term of the contract extension.

Also included in the contract will be a high grade paper recycling program for Village Hall. "This is something the Mayor wanted for the hall," Tim Wells, Village Administrator, told the board.

Rate increases for Waste Management will be held to 5 percent or CPI. According to Wells, rate increases in the past have been limited to 3 percent or less.

Waste Management will also be providing 65 gallon cars to those who request them. There will be financial incentives for those users who are able to reduce their waste by recycling.

Cost to residents will be $10.38 a month for the 90 gallon cart service, $8.90 for the 65 gallon, and $2 a month for yard waste service. Village residents will also be offered the option of leaf vacuuming.

Village part-time summer staff will be visiting users of Waste Management in order to determine interest in leaf vacuuming. If the majority of residents want vacuuming service, it will also be included at a cost of 50 cents per month.

"I feel it is something we need to get feedback on before we increase the garbage fees 50 cents a month," said Wells.

Estimated cost for the informal personal survey is between $300 and $350. The personal survey was judged to be superior to a mail in survey because of low response rate of survey returns.

Regal China building may have new owner

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The vacated Regal China building, off North Street, may soon have a new owner. The sale is not yet finalized, but is expected to be completed in the near future. The building has been vacant for over three years.

The hopeful buyer is a soft plastics company that makes molded signs, industrial parts, counter displays, and interactive displays. Current operations are in Chicago, and the owners hope to expand.

Community Development Director Claude LeMere made the announcement during a speech to the Antioch Rotary Club last week. This comes on the heels of the sale and restoration of the vacant True Value store on Main Street. LeMere also told the group about the many other exciting things happening in Antioch.

According to LeMere, the Park Avenue Mall, Collection Connection, Dolly's Second Showing, and the soon-to-open Williams Brothers Emporium, antiques will be the "anchor" to draw more retailers and shopping to Antioch. LeMere told the group about the proposed "Antioch Walk" which will be designed to lead the visitors from shop to shop.

The Walk will include two paths which wind through the beautiful natural, historic, and commercial areas of Antioch. Walkers will be treated to maps which will explain the sights along the way. The walks will be one and two miles long respectively, and cedar chips will be used through the wooded areas. Work on the Walk will begin after the Orchard Street extension is complete.

Other projects LeMere discussed included the completion of the Village Hall sign, the War Memorial, the Antioch Community Building.

Kevin Troyan and Shawn Waits. Thirty-nine Fox Lake Grade School students earned "A" academic honors for the third quarter grading period. I will give a big hip hip hooray to half of the students this week and the remaining students next week.

Congratulations on a job well done to: Kristi Alberts, Jessica Alioto, Stephanie Altman, Denise Arteage, Lissette Arteage, Amanda Brinegar, Jennifer Collett, William Dowd, Alex Drews, Neil Drews, Ashley Eberle, Nicholas Fain, Chantell Gebert, Sara Harwood, Shari Helmski, Shawna Hileman, John Hoersch, Jillian Huhn, Matthew Janowicz and Mary Kay Kelleher. Congratulations are also in order for the sixty students who earned "B" academic honors. Great job, kids. Keep it up.

Can we?

Recently Meaghan Shanahan brought her ten month old baby sister, Erin, to Camp Crayon for her special Show N Tell item. After she finished answering questions about baby Erin and proudly showed her to all of her camp friends, Gage Frasier asked "Mis Marie, can we put her on the go-home table now?" Good question considering that is where we normally store our daily Show N Tell items. Once again, out of the mouths of

You read about Eugene McMeel's 85 birthday celebration in a recent "Hometown Goodies" column. Since then, I had the pleasure of meeting Eugene when he personally thanked my for the write up. He certainly did not look 85 years old to me—definitely more like 85 years "young." Gene, something tells me (God willing) I will be writing about your 100th birthday in fifteen years. It was nice meeting you and please do stay happy and healthy.

Impersonator

Sometimes on my "out-of-sorts" days, the noise level working with the three, four and five year olds at Camp

Crayon makes me wonder why I am drawn to this particular job at age 50. After all, I could be home taking long quite walks, working in the yard, relaxing in front of the TV or curled up with a good book. However, a special hug or comical comment from one or more of the little ones always sends me back for more, more, more!

Such is the case with Kyle Baird's recent comment to Miss Louis during our activity circle. "Miss Lois," Kyle inquired, "Guess what I am going to be next Halloween?" Miss Lois's curiosity made her respond "What are you going to be, Kyle?" The answer came, "I am going to dress up like Mrs. Doubtfire!" Nuff said, and I am now counting the days till Halloween.

Start making plans for Memorial weekend!

The timing is perfect; there are roughly 10 days till Memorial Day weekend...that long awaited holiday that we've been counting the days till since Jan. 1. We've survived that long span of time without a major holiday (by major holiday, I mean the type of holiday that gives you a day off work). Jan. 1 through May 30 we diligently went to work day in and day out, knowing that eventually Memorial weekend would come and we could get back in the swing of things (holidays) and start counting the days till the Fourth of July!

Time to dust off the barbecue, buy some coal or propane, load up the cooler with ice, buy the burgers and buns and find your "Kiss the Chef" apron. Hopefully, we'll be blessed with wonderful weather for the weekend. Plenty of time for lots of outdoor cooking, picnics and maybe putting in a little time at the beach. A definite start to summer. If you're in the market for a new grill this year, stop by True Value and Ace Hardware and browse through their selection of grills and accessories. Don't forget coolers, too.

Make sure you have all the necessary sports equipment for the holiday. Badminton, tennis, bocce, football and baseball are just a few backyard sports that are fun for a great day at home with friends and family. You can find equipment at Antioch Family Sports and BJ's Sporting Goods on Main St.

If summertime means trips to the beach, try on last year's swimsuit and decide if you are going to make do with it, or if you need to visit Larry at BJ's Fashions or Jack at Four Squires to get the latest in men's suits. Sandi and her staff at Four Squires will be happy to help fit the ladies with the most flattering suits available. Make sure you take time while trying on swimsuits to pick up a few new warm-weather outfits. Vi at the Clothes Connection would be happy to help you coordinate an outfit.

Don't forget the kids. Choosey Child will have a nice selection of affordable swimsuits for girls (toddler through size 14). Look through the unique selection of playwear and specialty wear for both boys and girls.

Sunscreen should be on your shopping list in case of a sunny holiday. Stock up on plenty of food and drink from our local grocers to eliminate those last minute trips to the store. Have a safe and happy holiday!

Editor's note: Shop Antioch is a weekly newsletter showcasing Antioch's merchants and retailers. Prepared and written by Barbara Porch of Choosey Child.

Lake Villa continues support of ball fields

Lake Villa Village Board is continuing its process of assisting Lake Villa Township Little League in its quest to acquire playing fields at the Sun Lake Forest Preserve.

The board approved the concept of allowing Village Planner Lane Kendig to prepare a presentation to the Lake County Forest Preserve Board and staff. The village is forwarding its recommendation to the baseball league.

The league will determine if it wishes to allow Kendig to gather the information and put it in a proposal form. Mayor Frank Loffredo mentioned the forest preserve respected Kendig's work and would likely be receptive to a proposal written by him.

"He is putting together a package of proposals to present to the forest preserve board and staff," Loffredo said.

Loffredo said Kendig is taking all the information developed by the league and putting in a proposal to alleviate concerns the forest preserve has with allowing baseball fields on the site.

"It would answer most of the concerns of the forest preserve. It should clear up some of their questions," Loffredo said.

The league has been trying for about two years to get approval by the forest preserve for the playing fields. Lake Villa Village Board, when it deeded land to the forest preserve, required part of the land to be used for playing fields.

The board has taken over the negotiating with the forest preserve on behalf of the league. The board is working on presenting a proposal to the forest preserve based on information and plans given to it by the league.

No time has been set for a presentation to be ready. The baseball league will decide if they want to continue the process.

Area musicians present competition concert

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Lake County residents were treated to a concert given by the finalists of the Tenth Annual Young Artists Music Competition held at Lake Forest College. The concert included the finalists of the competition.

The competition was sponsored by the North Suburban Symphony and included young instrumentalists, keyboardists, and vocalists. The prestigious competition requires that the contestants must live or study in Lake County or north suburban Cook County.

One student from Antioch was selected as a finalist. Emily Seto of Antioch Community High School was included in the concert, playing the piano.

The Young Artists Music Competition was founded by the Liberty-Fremont Concert Society during the 1984-85 season. In 1987, the society appointed James R. Glacking of Libertyville to the post of competition chairman.

In 1991, the supervision of the competition was assumed by the North Suburban Symphony. Glacking continues as chairman. The Symphony awards three prizes of $300, $200, and $100 to the winners. Supporters of the competition include the Libertyville Woman's Club, the Sunrise Rotary Club, the Carlson Violin Shop, the Lake Forest/Lake Bluff Junior Woman's Club, the Rotary Club of Lake Forest, and Harris Developmental Corporation of Lake Forest.

The first prize winner of the competition was Carrie Dennis, a junior at Evanston Township High School. Dennis played the violin in the competition. Second place went to John Dahlstrand, a string bass player from Glenbrook North High School, and third place went to Marco Pagua, a junior at Lake Forest High School. Kurt Johnson of Libertyville High School received an honorable mention.

Crane opposes higher taxes for GATT accord

Eighth District Congressman Philip M. Crane declared he strongly favors approval of a new General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), but will fight attempts by the Clinton Administration to raise taxes by more than $12 billion to pay for the world trade pact.

"We need a new GATT pact just as we needed NAFTA (North American Free Trade Agreement)," Congressman Crane reported. "And for the same reasons—increased international trade means more American jobs."

"Why is it that the Democrats have but one answer to all problems?" Congressman Crane asked. "They just say 'raise taxes.'"

"The cost of the international trade agreement can be met by cutting government spending—not raising taxes," the congressman said. "Besides, studies show that for every dollar lost in tariff revenue under GATT, total revenues will go up by more than $3 as a result of increased trade."

The $12 billion represents the tariff revenues that would be lost if the GATT accord is approved by Congress.

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Village of Antioch has completed all the requirements to become eligible to regulate basic cable television service. Mayor Marilyn Shineflug and Village Administrator Tim Wells have been attending monthly meetings with eight of the 15 municipalities using U.S. Cable and may be ready for an intergovernmental agreement soon.

"The group, when information comes back from U.S. Cable, may sit down and talk about an intergovernmental agreement," Wells told the village trustees. "Or, we may get a consultant and share the costs."

Wells also had some good news for cable customers in the area. "I was told, sometime in July, there will be a reduction in basic service," said Wells. "Somewhere between $1 and $2." According to Wells, complaints about cable reception and service to the village are down.

"We haven't had a lot of calls lately about the service fluctuations in bad weather like we used to," said Wells.

Resident Randy Edwards asked the board if there was anything the village could do about U.S. Cable's formula for charging dual basic fees. "They are charging us to get something that is free," said Edwards regarding two local channels found on the expanded basic tier. "They shouldn't have two rates for basic cable."

Service appreciated

Village Administrator Tim Wells was surprised and pleased when the Village of Antioch brought out the balloons and cake to celebrate his 20th year with the village. Mayor Marilyn Shineflug read a speech and presented Wells with a certificate of appreciation.—Photo by Mary Foley

LETTER TO THE Editor

Volunteers thanked

Editor:

On April 30 the PADS shelters in Lake County closed until Oct. 1. The effort to assist folks who are homeless does not stop, however. The PADS organization, through efforts such as PADS Plus, continues to assist folks to find housing and address the barriers that contributed to their homeless status. The most labor intensive need for PADS, however, is in the operation of the shelters. That need is addressed through a total volunteer effort on the part of the people of the communities in which the shelter is located. One of the PADS shelters is located in the United Methodist Church in Antioch.

In the past season, every Sunday night from October through April, 30 to 37 homeless men, women and children slept in a warm, safe shelter manned and supported by friendly, caring people. There were literally hundreds of people across the Antioch area who helped with this effort. They came from all walks of life. They were very young and very old. They attended different churches, schools and were members of different organizations. Their skins were of different color. Their purpose, however, was singular—help a fellow person who was "down and out."

There are many noble purposes for which a community might come together. The actions of the people, businesses and organizations of Antioch who helped in the PADS effort demonstrated one of them. On behalf of PADS and the folks to whom you extended a helping hand, we say thank you.

Jaycees, First Chicago sponsor 'free' car wash

Antioch motorists ready for "spring cleaning" their cars can get a bargain and help the Antioch community at the same time on Saturday, May 21 as the Antioch Jaycees and First Chicago Bank co-sponsor a car wash from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Municipal Parking Lot.

Drivers will get their car hand-washed by Jaycee volunteers for a $3 donation to the Jaycees. Or, completely free if the driver fills out a brief application for a First Chicago "no-annual-fee" credit card. "In that case," says First Chicago-Antioch bank President Carl McWherter, "First Chicago will make the three-dollar donation on their behalf—so they can get both the credit card AND the car wash for free," he said, "while the Antioch Jaycees will get the three dollars. Bank staff will be available at the car wash and assist drivers with the applications," he added.

The car wash event also introduces First Chicago's new, simplified credit card application forms, according to Marlene Olsen, newly-elected Antioch Jaycee President. "They're so quick and easy to fill out, they take less time than the car wash," she said.

Applying for a special "Student Credit Card" designed specifically for students will also qualify for a free car wash. "It's important for young people to begin early to learn responsible financial management of their affairs," McWherter said, "and to build a solid personal credit history. As one of the oldest and largest banks in the U.S., and the 'Premier Bank of the Midwest,' we have an obligation to assist in that process. Our First Chicago Student Card is designed to help do that."

County to learn about lakes

The public is invited to the Countywide Lake Management Workshop, to be held at Sand Lake on the Lake County Duck Farm Forest Preserve property at 37600 Douglas Ln. (Rte. 132 and Douglas Ln.), in Lindenhurst, on Saturday, June 18. Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., with sessions from 10:15 a.m. to 3 p.m. There is no charge for the workshop.

Attendees can learn about fishing in local lakes, soil erosion impacts on water quality, septic system care and maintenance, aquatic plants, the Illinois Volunteer Lake Monitoring Program, zebra mussels, healthy lake landscaping and other lake management activities. In addition, representatives of organizations and governmental agencies that provide lake management services will be on hand to answer questions and hand out information about their specific groups.

All individuals and groups who would like to learn about lake management are invited to attend.

The Countywide Lake Management Workshop is sponsored by the Lake County Health Department's Lakes Management Unit, the Sand Lake Steering Committee, the Sand Lake Property Owner's Association, the Village of Third Lake, the Lake Villa Lakes & Environment Committee, the Lake County Forest Preserve District and the Illinois Lake Management Association. Second school district OK's Lake Villa unit school vote

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community Consolidated School District board has approved a resolution to allow the question of the proposed Lake Villa Unit School District to appear on the November ballot. While the resolution is not a show of support for the unit school plan, it does allow the question to go to the voters. The proposed district will include grades kindergarten through 12.

District 34 is the second Antioch district to agree to the ballot question. Antioch Community High School District's Board of Education also passed a similar resolution at a special meeting earlier this month. Both board votes were unanimous.

The proposed new Unit District would include some students attending schools in Antioch, Milburn, Grayslake, and Grant, as well as children in the Lake Villa schools. Proponents of the plan, Joyce Heneberry and Joanne Osmond have been approaching the various school boards in these areas.

One of the many hot issues District 34 had to consider was division of assets, and, in particular the loss of Oakland School to the new district. Last year, when Heneberry and Osmond first began to discuss the unit district, Oakland School, which is in District 34, had been specifically considered to be incorporated into the new district.

"Regarding Oakland School, we indicated to them we would not be interested," said Superintendent Donald Skidmore of District 34. "They understood our position."

However, there are still many unanswered questions about the proposed new district, in particular, the price tag on the new district. If the new unit district gets approval from the voters, schools losing students will be required to divide the assets.

"There are still a lot of holes that need to be filled," said Skidmore. "Voters must realize it comes with a price tag. There are financial obligations."

At this time, there seems to be very little financial information available. Besides the division of assets, the new district would have to build a high school. Antioch Community High School board has been told that another grade school would also be needed.

Another issue that must be addressed will be teacher's salaries. In a unit district, teachers will be paid on the same pay scale. At this time, elementary and high school teachers are paid differently. The state will pay $4,000 to each teacher to equalize the pay differential, however, it is not known if this will be enough.

A forum will be held for administrators and teachers on June 3. A panel of experts including representatives from the state will be on hand to answer questions about the proposed plan. After the forum, public hearings will be held to allow voters to learn more and ask questions prior to the November vote.

essential components to defeat gambling initiatives: strategy, organizational networking and comprehensive data.

"We will arm gambling opponents," continued Grey, "with winning strategies. We can help them get started, organize phone banks and neighborhoods. And, we can provide solid, reliable data while connecting them with experts to counter gambling's big lie that it helps economies. The field research says it does not."

Grey believes that economies are harmed by legalized gambling. "The evidence reveals that with gambling, more jobs are lost than created. Taxes go up, not down. And, legitimate businesses suffer. This is an organization that will assist and stand with any group, anytime, any place," said Grey.

NCALG plans to create an anti-gambling computer bulletin board. This will allow data to be sent and retrieved throughout the country.

Locally, Roy Sackschewsky, past chairman of Against River Casinos, praised the formation of NCALG. "Given the facts about gambling, most community residents will choose to say 'NO' to gambling, as they did in our township," explained Sackschewsky. "People want what is best for the future of their children and communities. NCALG will be able to help citizens organize and convince their political leaders that the lure of the 'gambling business' is as much a hoax as gambling itself. I congratulate those individuals such as Tom Gray, who have given their time and skills to organize this coalition."

Judy Martini, Republican candidate for Lake County Board (Dist. 1-Antioch) also supports the formation of NCALG.

Need sewing donations

Laura Ireland's sewing class at ACHS is looking for donations for a sewing project. The fall class will be remaking new woman's fashion. When spring cleaning, save any men's dress jackets, suits or vests. Also needed are: buttons, lace, gloves, scraps of lace or necklaces, earrings and ties. If you cannot drop the items by the school call 395-1421 to arrange for pickup. Items will be sold at a craft school before Christmas to help fund the department. Sewing students from left are Sara Behling, Lisa Anderson, and Sara Schawel.

Wayne Foresta. Foresta indicated he would like to have a compromise definition using both the state statute with additional restrictions.

"Why would you want to sell something to a child that you have to light a match to?" Trustee Dorothy Larson asked Edwards. "I have a real problem if you are selling this stuff to children."

Trustee Don Amundsen told the board he had concerns regarding the sale of sparklers. "There is some concern about sparklers," Shineflug told Edwards.

Adding to the confusing issue of the definition of fireworks, Oldenburger voiced his worries that other retailers have already ordered some of the items considered. "This is awfully short notice for you folks to become creative," Oldenburger cautioned fellow board members.

The village staff surveyed area retailers to find out if they had been selling any of the devices in question. Only two, Osco and Bernies responded affirmatively. "We did a survey and only Osco and Bernies were selling these items," Shineflug told the board.

The board also voiced concerns about where the "non-fireworks" would be sold. Edwards told the board Ace Hardware had said no, but he had gotten a "maybe" from the 76 Gas station and Welcome Mat Realty. Some board members were upset that a gas station was being considered.

In the end, no definition had been agreed upon, but tabled the discussion until after Monday's budget meeting. In the meantime, the board asked Edwards to make a list of the items he plans to sell. Public Safety Director, Lee Shannon, has been asked to attend the Monday meeting in order to review the items and to demonstrate them to the board.

Antioch's Periman brings major league experience to mound

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

How many high school baseball teams can boast having a coach who has played in the majors?

Antioch can.

When Assistant Coach Terry Periman goes to the mound to offer words of wisdom to a struggling pitcher, he brings with him major league experience.

Before tearing a tendon in his elbow, Periman pitched relief for the Philadelphia Phillies.

A graduate from Wauconda High School, Periman attended the University of Missouri on a full baseball scholarship. He was drafted by the Phillies in his junior year and went on to play A, AA and AAA baseball before being called up by the Phillies in the mid '70s to pitch relief during end-of-season play.

"Most of the guys I played with are multi-zillionaires or retired," Periman said of his former teammates, such as Hall of Famers Steve Carlton and Mike Schmidt.

Periman now volunteers his time to teach Antioch hurlers how to pitch, not just throw.

"Most kids in high school can throw between 75 and 85 mph," Periman said. "They're just throwers, not pitchers."

Periman said he tries to get his pitchers, such as Casey

O'Connell and Eric Eckenstahler, to think about each pitch, the count and pitch location.

"A lot of kids have great talent, but I try to get them to focus on the mound," Periman said.

O'Connell, Periman noted for example, is not afraid to throw a curve ball on a 3-2 count. He also tries to teach his pitchers to paint the black of the plate or to hit the outside corner when the defense is playing the hitter to swing late.

"We're trying to bring in the mental aspect of the game, what to do with the ball," Periman said.

Coach Paul Petty also appreciates the help and experience Periman provides.

Bell tolls for Antioch foes in long jump

When track and field coach Norm Hahn first noticed Aaron Bell, the senior was jumping for tip-offs and rebounds on the Antioch High basketball court.

"I recruited him after watching him play basketball. This is only the second year he has been doing the high jump," Hahn said.

Bell is making his mark. He joined the elite of high jumpers such as Shannon King of Waukegan with a 7 foot even effort at the North Suburban Conference meet Saturday.

Bell and King, who was at 6-8 in winning the Central Suburban meet, will do battle with dozens of others May 20 at the Waukegan sectional. Bids to the May 27-28 state finals at Eastern Illinois University are at stake.

Bell won the 400 in 50.1 and ran a leg in the 1,600 meter relay which gained third place.

Kevin Erickson is another of Antioch's hopefuls. He won the 1,600 in 4:34 and the 800 in 1:57.9.

"It was a tough days work for him. He has the potential to run the 1,500 in college," Hahn said.

Despite having prom the night before, Antioch gave Zion-Benton a run for its money, finishing second. With the pole vault left, Zion had a 40-point lead counting dual meets.

Fenton was third in the meet points with 63, host North Chicago had 41, Libertyville had 40, Warren 25, Stevenson 18.5, Lake Forest 14.5 and Mundelein 11.

Antioch received a strong effort from Jeremy Garvacz, who was second in the 3,200 to Andrew Willigress of Libertyville.

Mike Shea topped his personal best in winning the discus in 53-6.

"He threw all year with a wrist injury suffered in football season. He wrestled with it and will have it worked on over the summer," Hahn said.

Brad Rubash was second in the 300 meter hurdles despite falling.

The 1,600 meter relay team of Bell, Dave Lawrence, Mark Enevold and Larry Schmidt was third.

Antioch had to make some lineup changes due to prom, but that should not be the case this week.

"We should all be fresh for the sectional," Hahn said.

ACHS offers girls hoops summer camp

Antioch High School will be hosting a girls basketball camp in June.

The camp will run from June 6-24. It will be for girls entering seventh, eighth and ninth grades this fall.

Times are 1:30 - 2:30 p.m.

Cost is $35. Forms are available at elementary schools and Antioch High.

"The camp's emphasis will be on teaching," Dave Woods, Antioch girls basketball coach, said.

Antioch's Denzel signs to play football with St. Ambrose U.

Kevin Denzel, the 6-foot, 210-pound defensive lineman who played for the Sequoits, signed a letter of intent to play for the St. Ambrose University Fighting Bees.

He was a two-year starter earning all-conference honors in the rugged North Suburban Conference. Denzel was second on the Sequoits in tackles and sacks.

"Kevin's strong defensive attitude and rugged work ethic, combined with his quickness, makes him a fine prospect," said Antioch football Coach Del Pechauer.

"He's hard to handle with his swiftness in his first two or three steps," Pechauer added.

Sequoia celebration

The Antioch Sequoia baseball team congratulates each other after a North Suburban Conference win over Lake Forest, 5-4. Kevin Eckenstahler singled with bases loaded in the bottom of the seventh to give Antioch the win. Antioch lost the second game to Lake Forest, 9-3. The Sequoias also went on to upset Libertyville 11-7 and hosted Libertyville again Thursday.—

Lindenhurst Lightning continues undefeated season

Although most of the Lindenhurst boys soccer teams did not fare well this weekend, the Lightning (U-12) continued to dominate their competition.

With a 7-0 victory over the Berwyn Blazers, the Lightning are still undefeated after five games. This record is even more impressive considering that the Lightning were promoted to a higher division in the Northern Illinois Soccer League this spring.

The Lightning defense has been superb, not allowing a single goal this season while the potent offense has scored 32 goals.

Against Berwyn, the Lindenhurst goalkeepers didn't face any shots as defenders Mark Sanderson, Matt Nolan, Jay Sturt and Josh Boller, and midfielders

Scott Bender and Kevin Earl completely shut down the Berwyn attack.

The Lindenhurst scoring came from Keli Owens (two goals), Nick Placko, Clint Ludden, Kevin Nelson, Jon Mendelke and Quinn Gooch, with assists from Andy Lyon and Peter Gedvilas.

The other Lindenhurst teams could have used some of the Lightning's good fortune. The Turbos (U-11) played well against powerful Sports Club but fell 3-1. The Turbos' goal was scored by David Tillich, with an assist from Adam Finney.

The Royal Eagles (U-10) lost a road game at the Hinsdale Strikers by a score of 2-0. Todd Robles, Michael Persman, Matt Boller, Kaleib Barrett and Ramesh Kumar were standouts for the Eagles.

The Lazars (U-14) were defeated by the Mundelein Blasters 4-0.

Power

The Lindenhurst Power (U-13) found themselves with a double-header last Sunday with one game at home and one on the road. Game one at Polley Field saw the Power dominate the Orland Park Mighty Mites in a 4-0 win.

Kristina Giangiorgi recorded the shut-out with defensive help from Amber Dewald, Esther Scheuerer, and Kristen Gamlin.

Providing the offensive punch were Jamie Wismer (three goals and an assist), Teri LaRoche (one goal and two assists), Katie Anderson (one assist) and Jenny Barbera (one assist).

The Power then traveled to Glen Ellyn to face the Lakers and brought home another win by the score of 3-2. Contributing to a fierce second-half defense, which frustrated the Lakers, were Nicci Estep, Cara Robinson and Kristen Hungarland.

Power goals were scored by Sarah Richardson, Maureen Moran and Kristina Giangiorgi (on a penalty kick). Two assists were awarded to Jourdan Phillips. The Power improved their record to 4-2.

Stars

The Lindenhurst Stars (U-13) faced the same Orland Park Mighty Mites in a home game later in the afternoon. The Stars handed them their second loss of the day by beating the Mites 5-0 in a game that saw total team play by the Stars.

Goalkeeper Megan Rinkenberger only had to handle seven shots all game due to the efforts of Cheri Case, Emily Ayre, Elly Elfering, Katie Gofron, Becky Sosnowski and Amie Smit.

Putting the ball into the net were Amie Carlberg, Many Fasano, Susan Goscinjak, Megs Kotlarz and Sarah Rimkus. Assisting in the goals were Samie Korbal, Natalie Richter, Elly Elfering and Mandy Fasano. The Stars improved their record to 3-2-1.

Lightening

The Lindenhurst Lightening (U-11) continued to show improvement both offensively and defensively by defeating Lake Forest on Sunday 6-0, bringing their record to 3-1-2. They will travel to Glenview this week.

JV sweep over Lake Forest

The Antioch High School junior varsity softball team continued to show improvement with a sweep over the Lake Forest Scouts, 13-2 and 6-3.

Lisa Murphy and Stephanie Haenchen each went the distance for the Sequoits.

In Saturday's opening game, Antioch jumped out to a six-run lead in the first two innings, and never looked back. Leading the 13-hit attack was Katie Cox with three hits.

Contributing two hits each were Laura Deutsch, Jessica Schmitt and Megan Sosnowski.

Kristin Franzen had the big hit of the day by coming off the bench with a pinch-hit home run.

Linda DeSalvo, Liz Koeck and Murphy added single hits to the winning effort.

Defensively, Antioch remained solid allowing 2 hits, 3 runs and making 2 errors. Murphy struck out six while issuing a total of three walks.

In the second game, the Sequoits found themselves locked in a tough defensive battle being down 1-0 after four innings, and 3-0 going into the Sequoit half of the fifth inning.

Antioch then exploded for six runs, which were enough for the 6-3 victory.

The fifth-inning rally began with a walk to Haenchen, who scored after Cox singled and Sarah Rockow reached base on an error.

Courtney Konrath singled home another run, and Jessica Schmitt followed with a two-RBI single.

The fifth run of the inning scored on Koeck's fielder's choice. Ellen Manderscheid knocked in the final run.

Haenchen scattered 3 hits and 3 walks, while striking out 9.

"Pitching is the key to this game," Petty said. "He brings in the thinking aspect of how, when and why to throw a certain pitch."

The Sequoit pitching has progressed this year and has kept Antioch close in many games. O'Connell, in fact, threw a no-hitter against North Chicago, and Eckenstahler kept Lake Forest's bats at bay and garnered a 5-4 win against last year's North Suburban Conference champs.

As for Periman, he says he misses the "heck" out of playing professional baseball, but his love for the game and his pitching know-how is what he is trying to instill into Antioch's young pitchers.

Two distance runners and a hurdler will be representing Antioch at the girls state track and field meet.

Megan Durney clocked an 11:58.4 to finish second to Julie Goffee of Libertyville in 11:55.0 in the 3,200 meter run.

Durney had led for 7 of the 8 laps.

"She had a bad blister on her foot. She had been off it since Monday," Antioch Coach Kathy Kelly said. "Her strength has to be the middle. She does not have a great start or kick."

"I tried to pick it up and tried to catch up," Goffee said, adding the two are friends off the track.

meter high hurdles with a 16.1, edging a Zion-Benton runner.

"Her long legs and smoothness in between hurdles. Her goal is to get under 16.0 at state," Kelly said.

Keefe finished third in the long jump at 16 feet, 4 and three-quarter inches. That was not good enough to qualify, though.

Beth Lennon, a sophomore, just made the state qualifying time with a 2:22.4 in the 800. She was one of four qualifiers.

"Last year, she just missed qualifying," Kelly said.

Antioch had 28 team points, finishing in ninth. Stevenson won the meet, gaining its first sectional title with 74 points.

Lake Villa's Neal charges hard

Jeff Neal, making a rare 1994 American Speedway Association appearance, was one of the hardest chargers of the day during Sunday's Glass City 300. Neal is from Lake Villa.

Butch Miller captured his second ASA victory as he edged out Jay Sauter of Salem, Wis., in the 150-mile race.

Neal ended the day in 14th position after starting 38th out of a 39 car field. Neal drove the No. 3 Simonton Windows/Valvoline Chevrolet that was qualified a day earlier by Yale Conley. Neal was making his first ASA appearance of the year, coming up from the Busch Grand National circuit.

Neal managed to avoid numerous accidents that took out many of the top contenders in the final 150 laps. He actually raced into the top five, reaching the fourth position before a flat tire forced him to the pit.

"The team really had a good car today. I thought we were going to pit with 75 laps to go to change right side rubber, but we didn't. I don't know what happened. If we had not had that flat, we would have finished in the top five," Neal said.

"We went from 38th to fourth so we're pretty happy. I could have charged a little harder at the end, but I didn't want to wreck Conley's car. We were real happy with the day, though."

Neal is trying to get a ride for the next ASA sanctioned event, scheduled June 4 in Odessa, Mo.

WHAT CAN WE DO???

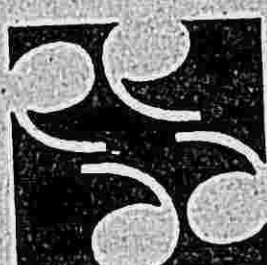

THE GURNEE RESIDENTS ACTION COMMITTEE HAS BEEN BRINGING FORTH ISSUES THAT NEED ATTENTION. WE DON'T CLAIM TO HAVE THE ANSWERS BUT WE WOULD LIKE TO OFFER THESE SUGGESTIONS:

PERHAPS IT IS TIME GURNEE PLACE A MORATORIUM ON BUILDING IN OUR VILLAGE. IT IS LEGAL AND ENFORCEABLE.

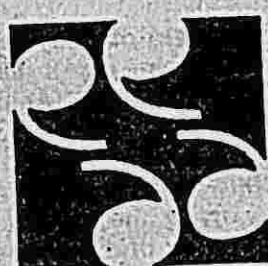

PERHAPS IT IS TIME GURNEE LIMIT THE AMOUNT OF BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED IN A GIVEN YEAR.

PERHAPS IT IS TIME, CONSIDERING THE SCHOOL SITUATION, WE LOOK FOR A LARGER DONATION FROM THE DEVELOPER IN ORDER TO HELP RELIEVE THE PRESSURE FROM THE TAXPAYER.

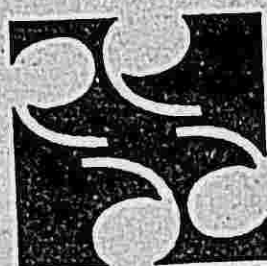

PERHAPS WE SHOULD SEE ABOUT GETTING THE DEVELOPERS IN GRAND-HUNT, WHO DONATED A GOLF COURSE, TO DONATE A SCHOOL AS WELL. THAT IS SOMETHING WE REALLY NEED.

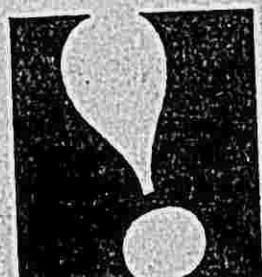

PERHAPS IT IS TIME TO REWRITE OUR ZONING RULES & REGULATIONS SO THAT THEY BENEFIT THE RESIDENTS AND NOT THE DEVELOPERS.

PERHAPS WE SHOULD HAVE TERM LIMITS ON PERSONS SERVING ON THE PLAN COMMISSION AND ZONING BOARDS. THIS MIGHT HELP TO BRING IN NEW PEOPLE TO VILLAGE GOVERNMENT.

PERHAPS WE, THE RESIDENTS, SHOULD BECOME MORE INVOLVED IN OUR VILLAGE SO THAT WE CAN MAKE GURNEE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE.

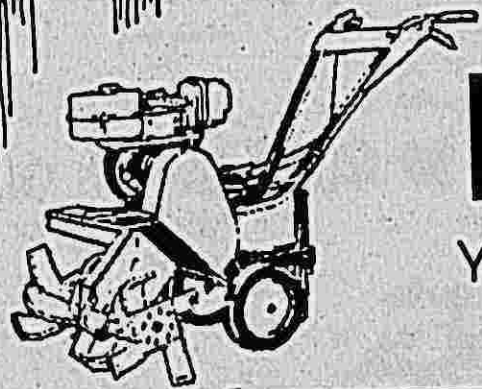

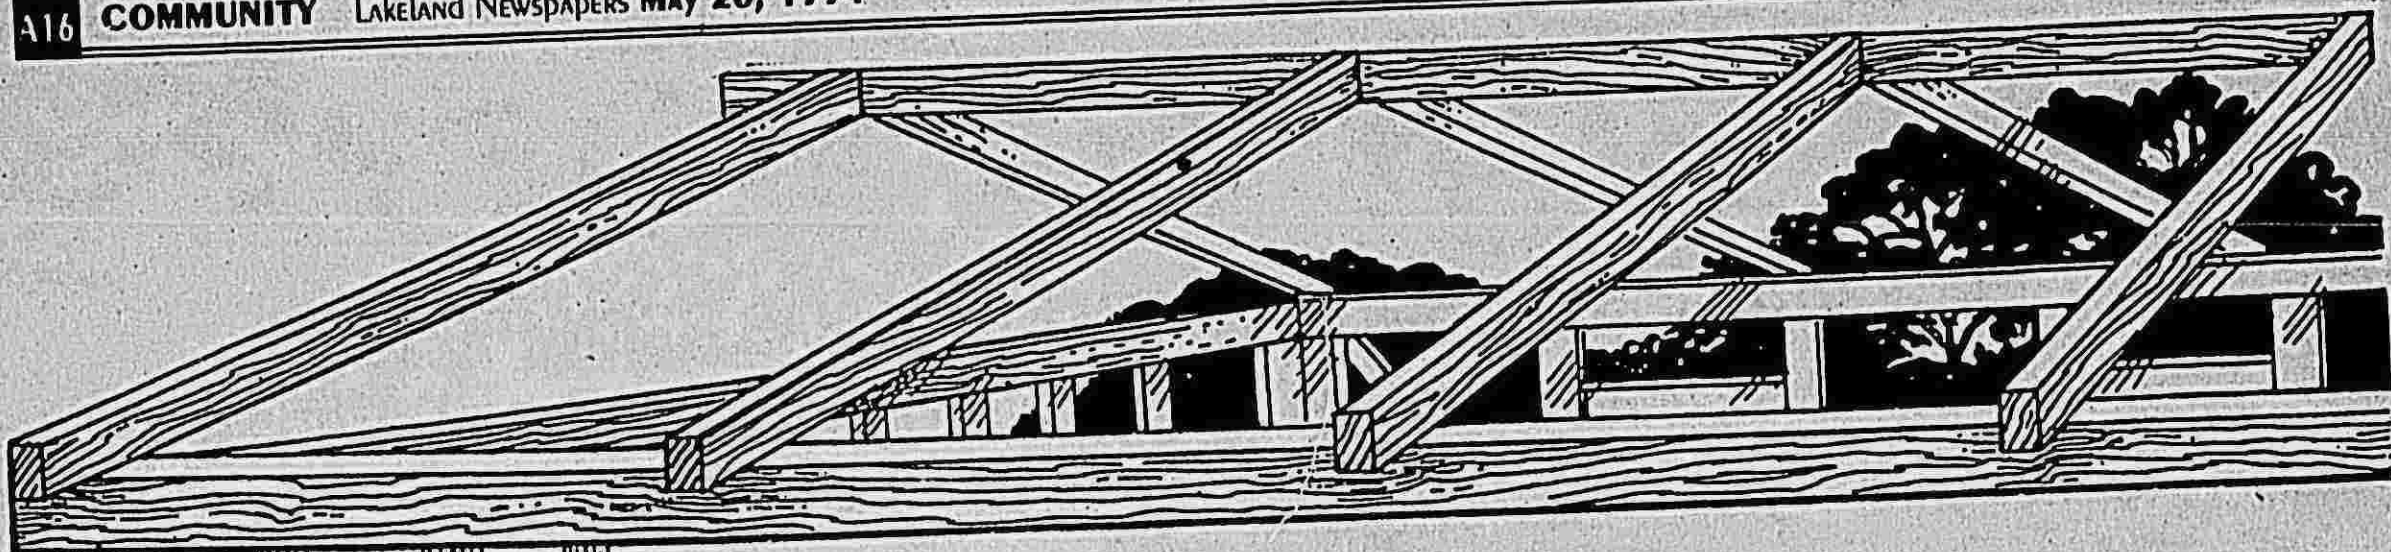

LET US PUT OUR DIFFERENCES ASIDE AND WORK TOGETHER SO THAT WE CAN LEAVE TO THE CHILDREN OF GURNEE THE BEST COMMUNITY IN THE COUNTY!!!

LAKE COUNTY ISSUES

New bill addresses police pursuit problems

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A new bill, sponsored by state Sen. William Peterson, has received approval by the Senate Local Government Committee. House Bill 3997 would request the Police Training Board to annually review police pursuit procedures and establish a minimum standard to help better protect the public during police pursuits.

"There have been incidents in which innocent bystanders have been killed or injured during police pursuit of a suspect," said Peterson. "This is a step toward offering better protection for the public while the police do their job."

The bill is a long time coming for Lake County's, who have already commemorated the one year anniversary since three people were killed on Route 83 in Antioch by a fleeing burglar. The bill, already passed by the House, now goes to the full Senate for consideration.

The bill also did not come in time for Russell Leisten and his wife, Barbara. Russell was killed last weekend by Arthur James Okinski, of Elgin, who was fleeing Zion police at a high rate of speed. Barbara is still in critical condition at Doyne Hospital in Milwaukee.

While many police departments already have a policy regarding police pursuit, it is often difficult to write a rule which is to be followed in every contingency. Even more worrisome, is the liability police departments and municipalities face when tragedy occurs.

"Any policy is going to call for a lot of judgment," explained Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller. Departments find themselves in a catch-22 situation in that they are responsible to the public to capture dangerous criminals, yet face the possibility of a lawsuit if something happens during that pursuit.

The Illinois Municipal League, as well as the Chiefs of Police Association and the Police Training Board worked with Peterson to work out a compromise on the bill. Larry Frang, of the League, explained some of the problems.

"Our concern with the bill was if mandatory standards are established, it could create additional liabilities on police and municipalities," said Frang. Frang explained the difficulty of having a written policy.

"You can't just say don't drive over 40 miles per hour," said Frang. "Then, the next day criminals will drive 41. The policy has to be flexible."

Employers need to cut travel in Clean Air Act

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Employers who ignore commuter travel reduction requirements of the Clean Air Act will be liable for penalties up to $10,000 fines.

So don't throw survey forms and compliance guidelines in the waste basket, employers attending a meeting of the Transportation Management Assn. of Lake County (TMA) at Country Squire restaurant were informed.

That's the bad news about impending ECO regulations (Employer Commuter Options).

The good news, brought by Linda Wheeler, ECO director for the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, is that a "good faith effort" will absolve employers of 100 persons or more of wrong doing.

"We're not looking for ECO police. There is extraordinary controversy over implementation of the Clean Air Act," asserted Wheeler, who was filling in for IDOT chief Kirk Brown whose plane was grounded in Springfield with motor trouble.

"The fact is," Wheeler stressed, "we don't know how a lot of this is going to work out."

Meanwhile, IDOT is plowing ahead in implementing the federal mandate of reducing commuter travel 25 percent in urban areas under the gun of loss of $700 million in U.S. highway grants.

Lake County employers are watching carefully the date they will be required to register for ECO. That looks like November, 1995, according to Wheeler. Right now, IDOT is pushing to meet at July 15 deadline for submitting state plans to the U.S. EPA.

Rapidly-growing Lake County will be part of the state goal to cut 150,000 vehicle trips per day by July, 1996, when everything must "be in place" to meet requirements of the Clean Air Act.

TMA, with offices in Libertyville, is part of the apparatus to help employers meet and implement federal mandates through such means as carpooling, vanpooling and public transportation.

As of Tuesday's meeting, membership in TMA stood at 60.

Director Willard Helander announced that she is leaving June 1 to devote full-time to her campaign for election as county clerk. She was presented a plaque by President Robert Gleason.

County Clerk candidates to downplay spending

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

The Lake County Clerk race could come down to who got the most for the buck.

That is, who receives more votes with fewer dollars spent.

The Lake County Clerk race could very well be the most hotly contested race in the county come November, and, as such, it could be the most expensive race.

Democrat candidate for County Clerk Kathy Ryg declared that her goal is to raise between $40,000 and $50,000.

Likewise, Willard Helander, the Republican candidate for County Clerk, said she will try to raise $50,000—although inside reports have indicated that $150,000 may be necessary to win. Republicans have been coveting the seat since the Democrats took control 24 years ago.

Campaign spending—How much (or how little?) does it take to win an election?

Nationally, billionaire H. Ross Perot could not buy the presidency with his infomercials.

On the state level, the freshman state senator from Palatine, Peter Fitzgerald, tried buying his way into people's homes through frequent mass mailings and television commercials. His personal riches could not unseat longtime Congressman Phil Crane.

On even the more local level, some County Board candidates, like Martin Paulson for example, spent that extra dollar for cable commercials only to learn that frugal door-knocking strategies, like those of Carol Calabrese, paid more dividends than cable commercials.

Both clerk candidates indicated that they are frustrated by the amount of money spent on campaigns.

"As a voter, I really object to the amount of money that is spent," said Ryg, adding that she will seek more "creative" ways of campaigning.

"Money doesn't buy an election," said Helander, who noted that she will stress her managerial and organizational background.

In a race where both candidates are newcomers, both will have to do a lot of selling to the voters, but both will sell their qualifications for the position not campaign gimmicks, they said.

Ryg said her strength is going to people and having people who know her spread the word about her.

Ryg is a two-time elected municipal clerk for Vernon Hills who has a managerial and See CLERK page B4

AT A GLANCE

Business under fire from board

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The village board called a special meeting on May 24 to review the request for a business license for the Morning Side Inn. The village alleges Walter Lang is the actual owner, he obtained the license under false pretense, ran another business at the restaurant and may not be fit to hold a business license. Lang said the restaurant is owned by the family, he is not the owner or manager. He said the village is unfairly accusing him after a assault and battery charges were place against him two months ago.

Village near deal with US Cable

LINDENHURST—The village board is nearing an agreement on a renewal to the current contract with US Cable. Unresolved issues which remained such as contract length and resolving customer service complaints seem to be agreeable on both parties. The board directed the village attorney to prepare a contract for their review.

Bank employee 'borrows' funds

GRAYSLAKE—Lisa Y. Denault, 21, of Round Lake Beach was fired from the First of America Bank in Grayslake April 26 after admitting to the theft of $3,600 from her cash drawer. Denault said the money was taken to pay her American Express bill. The state's attorney's office charged her with three counts of felony theft. Denault was arrested and released on a personal recognizance bond.

CAUSE resolution delayed

ANTIOCH—The request from Citizens Against Unsafe Electricity (CAUSE) for the Antioch Township board to pass a resolution, was put on hold to allow time for the township attorney to review the document. The board had a number of questions regarding the resolution. CAUSE representatives John Bambule and Jim Pierce told the board that the Village of Lake Villa, the Village of Lindenhurst, and Lake Villa Township have all passed similar resolutions. They said that the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) has the option of looking at community interest before making a final decision on whether or not the area needs a service upgrade.

Dem's announce appointments

LAKE COUNTY—Terry Link, Lake County Democratic Central chairman, has announced the appointments to the vacant offices of election from the March 15 primary. Democratic choice for Regional Superintendent of Schools is Sylvia Zon of Round Lake; Nancy Sass Scotillo, of Barrington, for State Senate (Dist. 26); Jayna Ashbacher, of Round Lake Beach, for State Representative (Dist. 52); James Yonker, of Libertyville for State Representative (Dist. 61); and Phyllis Lucas of Lindenhurst for State Representative (Dist. 62). "We are extremely pleased to have found these highly qualified and dedicated candidates to represent the Democratic party," said Link. "We look forward to a successful campaign and a great turn-out for the November election."

Board debates fireworks

ANTIOCH—Following a request from an area businessman to sell "non-fireworks", the Antioch Village Board began to analyze what exactly fireworks are, at their last meeting. The board agreed to delay their discussion about fireworks until the special meeting on Monday, May 23 at 7 p.m. At that time, the board and onlookers will be treated to a display of non-fireworks.

Sign request wins nod

GURNEE—Gurnee trustees approved a special use permit request from a sign company. North Shore Sign Co. will be permitted a maximum total signage of 1,700 square feet at the Village Commons Shopping Center. The maximum allowable square footage by right is 1,000. In the past, the village has granted shopping centers Saratoga Square and Riverside Plaza a permit to increase their signage.

Storm sewer may solve woes

GURNEE—Seventh Day Adventist School and Church officials are hoping the latest solution will be the last. An 18 inch storm sewer will be installed at the private Gurnee school. Gurnee Village Admin. James Hayner said developer Spruce Pointe has been working with the village and the church to find a solution.

Developer asked to pay for school

VERNON HILLS—In a letter to The Zale Group, would-be developers of the Cuneo property between Libertyville and Vernon Hills, Hawthorn School Superintendent Edward Noyes flat out asked the developers to pay for a new Hawthorn school costing between $4 and $7 million. The wish comes as the district is experiencing a significant enrollment crunch and financial constraints that have placed the district on the state's financial watch list. The school, nearly at capacity enrollment now, is expecting nearly 1,400 new students from Cuneo and other area developments. Officials from the Zale Group said this was the first time he has heard of such a request. The developers would already be contributing $4 million in impact fees.

Trustees object to added fees

MUNDELEIN—Village board members refused to approve an amendment to the Seavey Drainage Ditch Improvements Design Engineering Agreement, saying more than $1 million had been budgeted for the project which entails cleaning out the ditch. An additional $50,000 was being requested for impact studies requested by the Stormwater Management Association. Trustees directed Village Engineer Phil Perna to draft a letter asking what else, if anything, is needed to go ahead with the project.

Former bus driver awaits trial

LAKE ZURICH—A former school bus driver in Lake Zurich Unit District 95 is free on bond awaiting trial on six counts of criminal sexual abuse and criminal sexual assault stemming from an alleged affair with a 15-year-old student who rode on her bus route to and from Lake Zurich High School. Terms of the bond set for Angelika Palucci, 28, ban her from having any contact with teenagers younger than 17, including any unsupervised visits with her three young children, according to Corporal Curt Corsi of the Lake County Sheriff's department. She is also not allowed to leave the County except to seek counseling. Her defense attorney Charles E. Rapin of Lake Zurich has requested to obtain the student's psychiatric and school records. This and other motions will be decided during a hearing scheduled for May 23, with the trial set to begin June 20.

Student dies of heart attack

WAUCONDA—A popular Wauconda High School basketball star died suddenly after going into full cardiac arrest at school on May 3rd. William Gordon Ford, 18, had a preexisting heart condition known as WPW (Wolff-Parkinson-White) Syndrome disease which caused his heart beat to take-off into a rapid succession of beats without stopping at times. Ford collapsed on the sidewalk outside the school, 555 N. Main St., after just calling his mother, Barb Ford, the Village Fire Department's secretary, for a ride home. The department got a call minutes after she left and found Ford laying on the ground at 10:28 a.m. He was transported to Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington where he was pronounced dead at noon. Donations are being taken at the high school to set-up a memorial scholarship fund in his name. He was scheduled to attend Marquette University in the fall as an Evans Scholar.

CrimeStoppers marks its success in Illinois

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

What started some 20 years ago as a response to frustration of court rulings, has grown to become an important arm of law enforcement.

CrimeStoppers representatives from throughout Illinois gathered in Gurnee last weekend to hear experts and share ideas.

"CrimeStoppers began when the Supreme Court ruled that informants could be subpoenaed. Many informants did not want to come forward," William Zander of the Lake County Sheriff's office and executive director for CrimeStoppers of Lake County, said.

Residents with information about a crime may call 662-2222 and give their information without their name. Once a call is received, a secret ID number is given. If the information leads to an arrest and conviction, up to $1,000 is available.

"In Illinois, $1.6 million has been paid out. Internationally, $33 million has been paid," Zander commented. "Eight percent of our calls are about drugs."

Zander, a 27-year veteran of law enforcement, believes CrimeStoppers does indeed make a difference.

As of April 28, there were 6,537 calls received at 662-2222. There were 2,415 total cases cleared; 2,186 arrests; $6,653,353 in recovery and $199,100 has been paid. Lake County started CrimeStoppers in 1981.

Narcotics is the largest single type of case with 815 cases and 857 arrests. Others include: burglary, with 518 cases and 193 arrests; fugitives with 361 cases and 134 arrests; auto thefts, 185 cases and 41 arrests; thefts, 112 cases 56 arrests and homicides, 18 cases and 23 arrests.

How is it determined if someone receives cash and how much?

"We turn information over to the local police department and they let us know when a case is complete. Then an executive committee decides on the amount," Zander said.

Judge Richard Carter of Arlington, Texas described legal issues at the conference. Other topics include: hate crimes, a class for newcomers; high school CrimeStoppers programs; fund raising and environment crimes.

The conference included a state CrimeStoppers board meeting.

Law day awards

Circuit Judge Raymond J. McKoski addresses students who will be presented awards for their winning essays on a difficult topic, "Just Solutions". Those being honored in the eighth grade category are: Jonathan Baum, first place, Jon Lock and Brad Gold, second place. All three are from Shepard Junior High School in Deerfield. Third place will go to Andrew Dolch of Lake Zurich Middle School South and fourth place to Silvana Rodriguez of St. Mary's School in Mundelein. In the seventh grade category, Becca Stoeckl of St. Mary's School will be awarded first place, Sarah Kennedy of St. Mary's School second place, Rob Zastany of Viking Junior High in Gurnee third place, and tied for fourth place Kristy Bertrand of St. Mary's School and Elisha Bennett of Viking Junior High. Linda Alvarez, a fifth grader at Greenwood School in Waukegan received a special recognition award. Although the contest was only for seventh and eighth graders, Alvarez entered the contest so she could express "how she felt about our country".—Photo by Gene Gabry administrative background from Condell Medical Center in Libertyville and Northwest Mental Health Center in Arlington Heights.

As a clerk, Ryg works directly with the County Clerk and is a full-time elected administrator and part of the managerial team for Vernon Hills.

Helander brings with her a law degree and she currently is executive director of the Central Lake County Transportation Management Association.

"I am a manager and I'm a very strong organizer who works with the private sector and political officials," Helander said.

While the Ryg camp will be intersecting a "spirit of competition" to the campaign, Helander said she will downplay party affiliation as a secondary concern of the campaign.

"There's no doubt that this is going to be a cat fight," said Linda Hess, who is stepping down as County Clerk after 12 years at the helm.

With both candidates pledging not to make campaign spending the priority, the issue will come down to who is best qualified to run the County Clerk office and who can best sell those qualifications based on merit to the voters.

Maybe the Perots, Fitzgeralds and Paulsons will learn something from this potential, old-fashioned political race—one that involves two newcomers anxious to sell their qualifications.

Dept. of Corrections releases annual report

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

With the execution of John Wayne Gacy this month, many Lake Countians have given, at least in passing, some thought of the correctional system in Illinois. However, many people know little about the Illinois Department of Corrections.

According to the annual report of the Department of Corrections, there are 24 adult correctional facilities, 11 community correctional centers, and six juvenile institutions. Maximum security jails include Joliet, Menard, Pontiac, Stateville, and Dwight, for women. Also, there is one psychiatric facility, Menard Psychiatric.

Combined, there are roughly 5,214 individuals convicted of murder. In the juvenile facilities, there are 67 convicted murderers housed. Of the 5,214 convicted murderers, 62 percent are being held in maximum security facilities. However, some of them may be moving soon to an even more secure facility.

In October of last year, Governor Jim Edgar announced the site of the proposed "super-max" facility. The supermax, a super maximum-security prison, will be built in Tamms, Ill. and will house 500 beds. The supermax is slated for completion in 1996, and will hold those prisoners who attack prison staff or other inmates. The cost of the new facility is $60 million.

"By removing these prisoners from the general inmate population, we can better protect correctional officers and cooperative inmates and reduce the lockdowns and other control measures that interfere with drug treatment, educational, vocational, and prison industries programs," Edgar said in the report.

Other measures are being taken to house the increasing numbers of the inmate population. Kankakee Minimum Security Unit will be expanding soon. Construction, expected to begin this year, will add 100 beds to the facility at a cost of $2.5 million.

Edgar also announced last March, he plans to ask the General Assembly to approve $12.7 million in construction funds to complete renovations for a 600-bed minimum security prison in East St. Louis.

Housing inmates is not a cheap proposition. Financial expenditures of the department for 1993 were $606,359,100. This was the cost to house 34,358 adult prisoners and 1,478 juvenile offenders. This averages out to roughly $16,920 per inmate. The cost per inmate ranges from $10,599 to $35,668, depending on the facility. Juvenile institutions have a high per inmate cost because of the greater number of support staff needed.

Offsetting some of these costs is the prison industry. Inmate workers assigned by the Illinois Correction Industry provide a number of services ranging from asbestos removal to tire recycling. The idea is that keeping adult inmates productive makes them less prone to violence. The skills an inmate learns in the facility will hopefully improve their prospects for employment upon release, reducing recidivism.

The industry program is funded on money generated from the sale of items and services. Inmates are employed in a prison bakery, meat processing plant, a furniture plant, and even micro-filming.

The Corrections Department also operates its own school district. District 428 has been operating for 22 years offering educational programs like GED and ABE classes, as well as vocational certificates, associate degrees, and even bachelor degrees. Roosevelt University sponsors programs at nine correction centers.

'Agribusiness' displays scheduled

The libraries of Lake County have been very receptive to have the Farm Bureau's "A Salute to Agribusiness" on display. The scheduled locations include:

Through May 31, Fla Library in Lake Zurich; the month of June, Lake Villa Library; July, Grayslake and Vernon Area Libraries; August, Warren-Newport Library; September, Round Lake Library; and October, Fox Lake Library.

Officer speaks at Toughlove

Officer Pete Molitor from the Round Lake Police Dept. spoke to the Toughlove group of Round Lake on drug awareness. He brought in a board with drug paraphernalia to show parents what they could find in their children's rooms, so they would know what to watch for. A variety of pipes and tubes of drugs were displayed.

Open floor discussion was encouraged between the concerned parents and Officer Molitor. Types of drugs, like crack and cocaine, were brought up as a concern, seeing that even one time experiments can cause a complete addiction, if not a fatality.

Suggestions were given for parents in the event that these types of items were found, as were measures to take for their children.

"This problem is more common than most parents realize. Drugs, gang and criminal involvement lead to jail and/or death and that's what's actually the bottom line," said Kay Trujillo, group leader of Toughlove, Round Lake chapter.

"We as parents have an obligation to our children to be informed. The children are our future," she went on to say.

Trujillo urges all parents to "get involved in the future."

"There are 19 beds at Hulse House Detention Center, which serves all of Lake County. Where are those parents' support? Toughlove is here for them and you," she concluded.

For further information on the regular weekly meetings, call 1-800-926-KIDS.

Meetings are held at the Round Lake Park Dist. located on Hart Rd. at Rte. 134, Mondays at 7 p.m.

Governor appoints Financial Director

Gov. Jim Edgar named Frank C. Casillas, a business executive with 37 years experience and director of a job training service for Hispanics as Director of the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions.

"I am delighted that Frank has agreed to join my administration and put his vast experience in the private sector to work for the people of Illinois," the Governor said. "His proven administrative abilities will be put to good use in his new position."

Casillas, 68, of Downers Grove, is currently the Chicago director of Central States S.E.R., a national organization that provides employment training for economically disadvantaged Hispanics and places them in jobs.

He previously served as assistant U.S. Secretary of Labor during 1984 and 1985.

A graduate of Purdue University with a bachelor's degree in engineering, Casillas has been responsible for general management, strategic planning, technology research, acquisitions and divestitures with several firms during his professional career.

Casillas' appointment was effective May 9. He replaced Michael Goldman, who had been acting director of the department. His salary will be $60,644.

Dems introduce Krupp to run against Porter

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

When the Democrats say they want to introduce fresh blood into races where incumbents have long held their seats, they really mean it in Andrew Krupp.

At age 25, Krupp was introduced, May 16, as the Democrat nominee for the 10th U.S. Congressional District, the seat held by veteran Republican John Porter for seven terms.

Fresh out of college and new to the political scene, Krupp calls himself a great student of politics who will work tirelessly for the people of the 10th Dist.

"The public is looking for bold action and to improve their quality of life," Krupp said.

"I know that I am young. I want to be there (Congress) fighting everyday for the people of this district—to be their friend in Washington," Krupp said.

After graduating with honors in history and religious studies from Tulane University in New Orleans, Krupp returned to Lake County to work for Riverside Manufacturing, a family-owned flag and banner business in Arlington Heights.

Krupp said he will concentrate more efforts in working for the issues concerning Lake County residents who live in the 10th Dist. Porter, Krupp said, tends to forget Lake County residents and center his efforts on North Shore constituents in Cook County.

"Everyday I hear of the problems affecting the people in Lake County," Krupp said. "Over half the district is in Lake County. We need leaders who will benefit the people of Lake County."

Besides fighting Lake County issues, Krupp said he will work for tougher crime legislation, help small business owners and cut waste through eliminating expensive pork barrel perks.

He blasted Porter for not voting for President Clinton's crime bills, which received bipartisan support.

"Just because the Democrat Party introduced the bill doesn't mean it's not a good bill," Krupp said of Clinton's crime bills that aimed to increase more police officers on the streets, ban semi-automatic assault weapons and mandate life sentences for criminals who commit three violent felonies.

He went on to say that he would evaluate pork barrel more closely in an effort to trim budget wastes.

"I don't plan to be a career politician, so I wouldn't be afraid to cut waste where it's needed," Krupp said.

Roycealee Wood appointed to regional office of education

Edward Gonwa, Lake County Regional Superintendent of Schools announced the appointment of Mrs. Roycealee J. Wood as his new First Assistant, effective July 18.

Wood, who is currently the Director of Academic Affairs for North Chicago Community Unit School District 187, replaces Carolyn Hendricks who resigned her position with the Regional Office last August to take an administrative post in Grayslake Elementary School District 46.

Wood brings a total of 31 years of educational and administrative experience to the Regional Superintendent's Office including teaching, counseling, personnel management, curriculum and staff development, testing and grant writing.

Reljic receives legislative award

The Legislative Award for District III of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women was given to Mary E. Reljic, a member of Lake County BPW and executive director of the YWCA of Northeastern Illinois-Lake and McHenry Counties. The award is for legislative advocacy on issues related to the empowerment of women and to issues impacting women in the workplace.

Police Pursuit," a report of the Police Pursuit Study Committee, was submitted to Governor Edgar and the General Assembly in April. The model proposes pursuit guidelines for police agencies throughout the state.

The report describes the situation when police should begin a pursuit. "Any peace officer in an authorized vehicle may initiate a pursuit when all of the following criteria are met: 1. The suspect is attempting to evade apprehension. 2. The suspect, if allowed to escape, may present a danger to human life or cause serious injury." The report goes on to discuss when a pursuit should be terminated.

Topping the list is when the danger to the public or the pursuing peace officer outweighs the necessity for immediate apprehension of the violator. The report also suggests that a pursuit be terminated if the distance between the police and violator makes the pursuit futile, if the officer loses visual contact, it is discovered the violator is not an immediate threat, the police car malfunctions or if ordered by a supervisor.

The report also suggests that experts from police training academies develop driving training curricula to be implemented statewide. The training board would be assigned to monitor and confirm that all police officers receive the mandatory program.

"A survey of law enforcement agencies is now being done to find out how many police forces don't have any policy of police pursuit," said Peterson. "This legislation makes adopting a standard in these cases permissive, but we may find later that the standard should be a requirement."

Gallagher returns as director of Republican Federation

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Republican Federation has a new executive director. Valery Gallagher, former director, has once again stepped up to the plate to take over the helm of the organization. The Federation is the fund raising arm of the Lake County Republican party.

Gallagher replaces Arlene Genell, who has resigned as a result of the major time investment required by the position. Genell had been director for only three months.

"Arlene probably just did not realize the time commitment involved," said Dr. John Schulien, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee. Schulien said that Gallagher is not a temporary director.

"She is not an interim director," said Schulien. "She is back with us."

Gallagher is returning to the post with quite a bit of experience. She held the post prior to the appointment of Genell for three years.

"We are very pleased," said Chuck Bartels, president of the Federation. "Valerie, with all of her experience, will provide strong support especially for the Republican candidates preparing to gear-up for their campaigns for the fall election."

Gallagher, who has considered other options said, "I realize my true goal is to serve my community and assist those who can make a positive difference as office holders in Lake County. I accept the challenge of this position and look forward to working with all candidates and citizens."

Schulien, who indicated that Bartels had conferred with him regarding her appointment, had nothing but praise for Gallagher. "She brings enthusiasm, experience, and skill," said Schulien. "We will appreciate her assistance with upcoming summer events and the fall general election. As always, our candidates are being supported well by effective office staff."

Gallagher will take office on May 23. The Lake County Republican Federation not only helps with fund raising, but provides administrative staff and office facilities for the Republican party.

EPA announces major gains in underground storage tank cleanup

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Region 5 said that some 25 percent (or 12,500) of the 50,000 known leaking underground storage tanks in the Midwest have been cleaned up. Also, almost 85 percent of the remainder (32,000) are undergoing cleanup.

Regional Administrator Valdas V. Adamkus said, "We have been working closely with the states in the region in cleaning up these sites. We are concerned about the drinking water, soil and air contaminated by these leaks."

Adamkus said another important benefit of the cleanup is the saving in valuable energy resources. "We estimate that in Region 5 alone, we have prevented the release into the environment of over 900,000 gallons of petroleum daily," he pointed out. "At current prices, this is a daily savings of about $990,000."

He said regional efforts have cut hazardous chemical leaks by over 3,600 gallons a day; the price tag is not known due to widely varying costs of these substances.

In 1993, over 453,641 gallons of gasoline and other petroleum products were recovered from the top of the ground-water table. In addition, 6.3 billion gallons of contaminated ground water and 8 million tons of contaminated soil were estimated to have been removed from high priority sites in the region and cleaned up.

EPA launched its cleanup program for leaking underground storage tanks in 1988, under the Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act.

In Illinois, 2,151 (or 20.4 percent) of the 10,524 confirmed releases were cleaned up by the end of fiscal year 1993.

Despite its efforts, EPA estimates that confirmed releases will continue to increase well into the next century. They could go as high as 100,000 due to the deterioration of older tanks that were installed without the necessary corrosion protection.

EPA said it will focus limited resources on high-risk environmental sites and cleanup options that best protect the public and the environment at each particular site.

EPA estimates the average cost of cleaning up one underground facility is $100,000. The projected cleanup costs in Region 5 alone could go as high as $10 billion. Much of the cleanup costs are being paid for by state petroleum tax funds set aside for this purpose. Many of these funds are feeling the strain of this effort.

To cut cleanup costs and speed up the process, the EPA, the states, and the petroleum industry are looking at improved and more cost-effective technologies.

EPA has already begun cooperative technology demonstration projects with the state regulators and industry. For example: A project with the Ohio Dept. of Commerce and BP Oil Co. has demonstrated a process that can cut cleanup time from two years to eight months. Another project, with the Minnesota Dept. of Transportation, is demonstrating a biological treatment method—an alternative to disposal of contaminated soil in a sanitary landfill.

Deputies relieved of sticker patrol

The Chain O' Lakes/Fox River Waterway Agency has no business compromising boating safety. Faced with some budget constraints, commissioners toyed with the idea of dropping patrol service contracts with the sheriffs of Lake and McHenry counties.

Fortunately, a decision was reached to reduce the contracts approximately $20,000 and renew agreements with the two law enforcement agencies with the proviso that water-borne deputies won't have to hassle boaters whether or not they have the required user fee stickers.

The stickers, priced according to boat size, are an important source of revenue for the agency that voters approved by a 74.3 percent margin of victory in Lake County and a 78.6 percent margin in McHenry County in a recent referendum.

Money was allocated for deputies to enforce DUI laws, 25 m.p.h. night-time speeds, anti-pollution rules and no-wake zones. The commissioners will have to find some other way of making sure all boats have a current sticker on display. Maybe a nautical version of meter maids?

Hosting landfill will pay dividends

Grayslake officials are making the most of a proposition other communities would not have touched with a 10 foot pole, being the host community of a giant garbage disposal facility.

The village is in the process of formulating a formal agreement with Countryside Landfill, one whale of a big disposal site that is destined to become even bigger as it serves most of the solid waste disposal needs of rapidly growing Lake County.

Owned by USA Waste Services, a publicly traded company operating in seven states, Countryside Landfill is designed to have an estimated life of 20 to 25 years as it receives the trash from neighboring communities, north, east, south and west.

In exchange for being sited as the county's landfill headquarters, Grayslake will receive a one-time payment of $250,000 and a $2 per ton fee for all waste unloaded, income estimated to exceed $25 million over the landfill's useful life. Being sort of a "partner" in the landfill business doesn't sound like a bad deal at all.

—VIEWPOINT— At this early stage, electric car mostly fun

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

At about $100,000 a copy, electric vehicles aren't expected to take the country by storm.

But they're more than a pipe dream and a curiosity as I discovered recently in a spin around the block and a turn-around in a subdivision cul de sac, courtesy of Commonwealth Edison and ComEd's man on the spot, Harlan Dam.

The energy utility has plunked down $500,000 to lease five Ford Ecotars in a combination test and promotion. Be on the look out for a silent Ecostar skimming along in your neighborhood.

Besides being devoid of engine noise, the thing you notice most about an electric vehicle is that it handles "just" like an internal combustion vehicle. It's incredibly responsive—"quick off the mark," as they say in the auto magazines.

Electric cars draw second glances—and conversation, if you're willing to roll down the window. "That's, ah, electric, isn't it?" is a typical inquiry. "Sure, is," I responded breezily, whisking away from a stop sign as though I was at the wheel of a Lamborghini.

Once reasonably priced batteries are perfected, electric vehicles will become commonplace.

ARRIVED—After 35 years or so of regular newspaper column-ing, this scribe may have arrived. I received my first honest-to-gosh piece of hate mail.

"Reading your editorial on Hillary is like taking an enema with a garden hose," penned Frank Drazan. Really. "It must be a horrible fear for you die-hard Republicans to get that gut feeling that Clinton is getting things done that needed doing...the voting public will remember Clinton's accomplishments long after your character assassinations are history."

One thing about Mr. Drazan's diatribe. Chances are I won't be bumping into him. He writes from west suburban Brookfield.

—PARTY LINES—

'Silent support' seen for Democratic nominee

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

For the first time in her public life, Vernon Hills Village Clerk Kathy Ryg, doesn't have the support of two prominent Republican female politicians. For obvious reasons.

Ryg, highly regarded in municipal circles, is gunning for the county clerk's post in the November general election as the Democratic nominee.

Clayton

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), in her capacity as Vernon Hills village attorney, has worked with Ryg since the native of Wheeling was first elected and State Rep. Verna Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove).

"I actually worked on a campaign once for Verna Clayton," Ryg admitted to Lakeland Newspaper reporters during an interview.

That happened, Ryg explained, when Clayton was running for mayor of Buffalo Grove, and a contemporary of Ryg's mom, Mayor Shella Schultz of nearby Wheeling.

Outgoing Democratic incumbent, County Clerk Linda Hess, insists that Ryg will be the recipient of the strong "silent support," voters who won't proclaim publicly for the popular Vernon Hills clerk, but will vote for her in November. "Including lots of Republicans," adds Hess with a grin. Hess didn't elaborate if she was referring to Geo-Karis and Clayton.

GOP pleased—Republicans of all stripes are pleased Valery Gallagher will be back as executive director of the Lake County Republican Federation now that Arlene Genell has resigned.

Gallagher will be playing the role of "good soldier" to keep the Federation office on an even keel as work in the office heightens for the campaign. The long-time GOP aide left the office to try private industry as an employee of Barrington's Joe and Nancy Masterson in their confectionery business.

Ghost busters—Al Gort, vice-president of the Fox Lake Area Youth Club, announced his gratefulness to the village of Fox Lake for having patience with him while he had difficulty finding a place to store his large haunted house built by volunteers last year. Planning Commission member Ernie Rizzo told Gort he had a ping-pong table to donate to the youth club, if they want it. Gort answered they sure did want it. The club's table finally broke apart earlier that day.

Waiting for Guv—Chairwoman for the Fox Lake 4th of July Parade, Dorothy Otte, approached village officials with a request they match $200 given by the American Legion. She explained that the Green Berets were performing and also the Shriners Mini Motorcycle Brigade and she invited Governor Jim Edgar but hasn't heard from him yet. "We haven't heard from him either," said Mayor Ken Hamsher regarding a different issue.

COMMENTARY

Corruption charges decried by RPC chairman

ROBERT R. RATCH

Having spent the past few weeks recuperating from major surgery, I have had the opportunity to read much of what has been written about W. W. Grainger's proposal to build a major office complex on the over 500 acres owned by the company in Lake County.

Much of what I have read allowed Grainger's opponents to question the integrity of Lake County's regional planning commissioners and professional staff. Propaganda has been circulated that suggests Grainger manipulated the Regional Planning Commission's recommendation for the County to adopt Grainger's plan.

These accusations are a bunch of hog wash. First, the RPC is an advisory commission on planning and zoning issues that ultimately must be resolved by the county board. The RPC is comprised of 14 Lake County Citizens who were appointed by the county board chairman, with the advice and consent of the county board chairman; with the advice and consent of the county board. Since our function is simply advisory, it is difficult to understand how we could profit from any recommendation that we submit to the Board.

Although the Grainger development generated opposition from Mettawa and some neighboring communities, the RPC endorsed the company's overall proposal because we believed it would be beneficial to the entire county.

Grainger wants to retain approximately 270 acres of land for an office complex and some private estate development. In return, they are prepared to donate the remainder of their over 500 acres to the Lake County forest preserve district. How often does the public find a corporation willing to assign nearly half of such a large parcel of land to the County?

This is very valuable land that is located just west of Interstate 94 and south of Route 60. As a former village mayor in Lake County, I have never witnessed a more generous offer. In addition to the land donation, over 1,000 new jobs will be created and 700 positions retained in Lake County. Every taxing body in the district will benefit from additional real estate tax dollars from this development. This project is expected to generate $1.7 million in real estate taxes each year.

Obviously, Grainger's proposal will increase costs because of the need for improved roads and more police, fire protection and sewer and water systems. Nevertheless, the RPC and its professional staff believe these increased costs will be acceptable because they will be mitigated by the enormous benefits derived from a major company locating its headquarters in Lake County.

The RPC appreciates why Mettawa and its neighbors are opposed to a new office complex near their homes. We understand that this project will create some inconvenience for homeowners. However, this inconvenience must be put in perspective with how this project will enhance the overall county. In addition, the RPC and the county have to be cognizant of the 1993 Illinois Supreme Court's ruling that permitted Grainger to disconnect from the Village of Mettawa. This disconnection occurred because Mettawa refused to allow Grainger to exercise their property rights.

The Supreme Court decision may have been buttressed by a more recent 19th Circuit Court ruling in the Korhumel case. In his opinion, the judge overruled the County's rejection of an office and research complex that Korhumel wanted to locate just north of the Grainger property.

Grainger's critics allege that corruption was the determining factor in the RPC's decision to incorporate a Grainger amendment in the RPC draft of a new framework plan for the county. In fact, Grainger recommended 13 changes and of these, we accepted only four. Grainger's recommendations were among a host of suggestions that were received from 96 entities, including villages, other governmental agencies, private planners and various interested people throughout the county. Included among the suggested amendments that were approved by the RPC (at the same time as the Grainger amendment) were changes recommended by the Mettawa Plan Commission and by the Citizens Against Suburban Sprawl (CASS) organization.

The Grainger Language that created so much animosity reads:

"New Urban Districts should not be designated outside of municipal growth areas except for parcels of land which are uniquely suited to urban intensity development at major interchanges or transit stations."

This amendment simply coincides with the basic philosophy of the framework plan. The framework plan (Part 1.2-Policy No. 3) specifically states:

"Lands adjacent to transit stations or major intersections or interchanges should provide for higher density residential and employment uses." (Emphasis added)

This policy is supplemented on page 2-10, wherein it reads as follows:

"To promote a healthy economy, enhance the natural and built environments, and provide opportunities to area residents, Lake County will."

(Policy No. 42)

"Assist employers to remain and expand in Lake County." (Emphasis added)

For the past 33 years I have specialized in insurance regulation. Insurance is one of the most highly regulated businesses in America. In this capacity, I negotiated with virtually all levels of governmental bureaucracies. Over the years, I developed a keen sense of what the government regulation can do to the free-enterprise system and have learned to appreciate how oppressive government edicts—no matter how well intended—can impair legitimate business interests.

It is especially perplexing for me to understand how it is in the public interest to inhibit a company's prerogative to manage its property in a fair and equitable manner.

LETTERS TO THE Editor

Edgar overrides Thompson

Editor:

Now we have Motorola in Harvard and I suspect the village fathers are falling over each other in their effort to out-bid any competition in their rush toward economic and environmental disaster.

Next will come the land developers who will promote farm land into housing, followed by referendums to build needed new schools. Industry has an obligation to locate where the work force is, not to follow them to isolated work sites.

And, what about preservation of farmland? As in Belvidere, Ill., and Springhill, Tenn., the 200 acre plant site is only the tip of the iceberg. Motorola will ultimately result in destroying thousands of acres of our vital farmland, and all at public expense.

Gov. Edgar's involvement appears to be in direct conflict with former Gov. Thompson's Executive Order concerning farmland preservation in the early 80's. Preservation of Illinois' vital farmland didn't even get an honorable mention in the recent governor's primary race.

New school the answer

Editor:

By restructuring attendance boundaries, the administration of Grayslake Elementary Dist. 46 will have equalized classroom sizes throughout the district for the next two years. Then space at both schools will be filled.

Why waste time re-configuring the town for a short-term answer? The cost of moving over 20 teachers and their equipment cannot be small. The additional cost of busing to the grade level centers has yet to be calculated. This issue which has divided our community has clouded over the more imminent need—a new grade school.

The administration has stated that the community will eventually need a school of approximately 60,000 square feet to accommodate 600 additional students. The academic journal "American School and University" reports average cost per square foot for grade schools built in the midwest is $78.90 per square foot (O'Plaine school in Gurnee was completed for $72 per square foot). Using the reported average cost of $78.90 per square foot for a 60,000 square foot school calculates to a finished cost of $4.7 million.

Grayslake will have the bonding capacity of $5.1 million dollars in July of this year. With this bonding capacity the community could begin a school construction project in 1995 and make the necessary expansion on the middle school also. The new school could be constructed in two phases with the first phase to include administration and other core facilities as well as approximately 50 percent of the classroom space, the second phase could be completed when student enrollment peaks. This approach would provide adequate space without an extraordinary cost burden.

Let us get past the debate and strive for a new school as a viable long term solution to our community's growth.

Forest Health Systems schools receive re-accreditation

The North Central Assn. has renewed accreditation for the 1993-94 school year for the six schools of Forest Health Systems, announced Mary Hansen, associate administrator of education.

Two of the schools, Forest Academy for Young Women in Wonder Lake and Lovellton Academy in Elgin, are residential programs, enabling youngsters to continue their academic progress while undergoing treatment. Forest Hospital School serves only patients of the hospital. The Forest Academy programs, located in Des Plaines, Elgin and Chicago, are day schools that serve emotionally disturbed children. The six schools accommodate a total student population of 200.

North Central Assn. sets standards for basic operation of the school and requires a comprehensive evaluation once every seven years.

NCA accreditation helps build public confidence by establishing that the school is meeting expectations and fulfilling local standards, as well as those more widely accepted throughout the region and the nation.

Serving the northwest suburbs for more than 35 years, Forest Health Systems is a group of facilities offering treatment programs for children, adolescents and adults suffering from mental or emotional disorders. Forest Health Systems also offers comprehensive programs for eating disorders, dual diagnosis, substance abuse and partial hospitalization, as well as a range of outpatient programs.

Paperless health claims system

While President Clinton's health care reform plan calls for a National Health Board to create a uniform standard claims form, health care industry leaders are beating him to the punch and rapidly implementing a program to create a paperless, efficient claims system.

What's more, industry executives point out, the drive to bring health care to the information superhighway is happening without any new legislation or government regulation.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois is implementing a system of electronic claim processing and payment. The electronic data interchange (EDI) also handle other administrative tasks.

The impetus was a work group convened in 1991 by President Bush's Health and Human Services Secretary, Dr. Louis Sullivan. Bernard Tresnowski, Blue Cross and Blue Shield association president, was co-chair of the work group which was assigned to report how to streamline the health care system for the consumer. The result was an American National Standards Institute approved system for health care transactions.

"The consumer is the real winner with this major administrative reform," said Theodore E. Desch, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois senior vice president of law and corporate affairs.

"Our electronic data interchange system is a real model for health reformers in Washington," said Desch. "Those who talk about creating a universal form should look to the Blue Cross system."

Experts say a totally paperless claims and information system could save the health care industry billions of dollars each year.

Rhedin makes the world a better place

MARY FOLEY

Life, or fate, if you will, sometimes intervenes in the best laid plans. Such was the case for Mary Rhedin, of Vernon Hills. However, Rhedin has not only made the best of things, but has made life better for others along the way.

Director of Preferences and Alternatives, Inc., a not-for-profit agency dedicated to expanding the employment opportunities for the disabled, Rhedin's life plan did not include helping the disabled. "I never really thought about it," said Rhedin. "It was not something I ever considered."

Rhedin, a Commander in the Naval Reserves, initially planned a career in the regular Navy. "I love the Navy," said Rhedin. She decided on the Navy after hearing stories of World War II from her father. She signed up right after getting her bachelor's degree in English from LeMoyne College in Syracuse, New York.

Mary Rhedin

"So many people I knew were coming back from Viet Nam in body bags," said Rhedin. "It awoke a patriotic spirit in me."

Nevertheless, fate intervened and after her marriage, she gave birth to her disabled son. Noticing a developmental lag in her son, Rhedin began her journey of through doctor's visits, agonizing medical tests, and, of course, self-recrimination.

Rhedin, instead of giving up, took what she knew and applied it. In what she calls "turning lemons into lemonade," as she became an advocate for her son, she also became interested and involved in helping others in a similar situation.

"My wish is to make a better world for my son," said Rhedin. "Where he can have the same quality of life as anyone else."

Rhedin owns several businesses including M R Resources and Master Resume Service. In addition to her regular clientele, she also attends workshops for the disabled to help them create resumes, teaches interviewing skills, and holds seminars on self-esteem. She uses her experience from the businesses in numerous projects to help the disabled find and keep employment.

Along the way, Rhedin has been involved in a number of projects. She attempted to See Rhedin page B 11

Before becoming a volunteer, Becker worked at the Parkway Restaurant in Waukegan.

Becker received the honor for volunteering over 700 hours doing special projects for various departments at the medical center. Since 1990, she has volunteered over 2,000 hours.

She recently was a trainer for the Marriott Foundation's Bridges Program intern-parent orientation. This program assists parents and guardians, as well as young disabled job seekers from the inner city, in expanding their employment opportunities.

"It doesn't matter whether you are from the inner city or the suburbs," explained Rhedin. "We all want the same things for our kids."

Rhedin was also a speaker at the Illinois Rehabilitation Annual Conference. Her topic was the inclusion of special needs children into regular education.

With seeming an unlimited supply of energy, Rhedin is also actively involved with her children. A school room mother for two of her three children, she still has time to catch their soccer games. Rhedin has been able to apply the organizational skills she has learned in the Navy to keep a tight a schedule at home.

Book tells police officers' part in murder investigation

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

Two Lake Zurich residents played instrumental roles in catching a murderer who sent the residents of the affluent North Shore suburb of Winnetka looking for answers and wondering who could commit such a grisly deed.

Both are Winnetka Police officers who also worked with the authors of a true-crime book based on the 1990 murders of Nancy and Richard Langert and the arrest of David Biro, then 16-years-old and a member of the New Trier High School cross country track team.

The title, "I am Caln" is derived from a sentence included in a rambling statement he had written which was saved into his home computer and was found after his arrest.

Written by veteran Chicago crime journalists Gera-Lind Kolarik and Wayne Klatt, the story chronicles how Sergeants Patricia McConnell, a Lake Zurich resident for the past 10 years, and Gene Kalvaitis, a village resident for 16 years, were two of the main police officials involved in the case.

Kalvaitis was assigned to head the task force based on his many years of investigation work within the small department.

McConnell took over the operations once she returned from a trip out of the country and the task force had been broken up by then Police Chief Herbert Timm (Timm retired in April 1993), who Kalvaitis said had told him he thought the case had no where else to go.

There was also the need for more officers on the street to relieve those pulling 10- to 12-hour shifts, as the department had either three or four people working full-time trying to catch the killer.

He admitted to being personally disappointed at the time, as the investigation was only two months old, and he wanted to be a part of it from start to finish.

Even though he was put back on the streets, he was told McConnell would keep him in touch with any developments, and both were active in Biro's arrest and further investigation leading to first-degree murder charges for the deaths of the Langert's and the unborn child Nancy Langert was carrying.

Sergeants Patricia McConnell and Gene Kalvaitis

Both officers have read the book, published in April, and think the authors did a good job of weaving all of the details together.

SUZIE REED
Staff Reporter

The red brick building nestled in the woods is a familiar site to travelers speeding along Rte. 176 where Libertyville meets Mundelein. Most of them have no inkling of the treasures and the tranquility to be found inside.

The Conventual Franciscan Friars of the Marytown/St. Maximilian Kolbe Shrine are hoping to change that with the help of the Lake County Convention and Visitors' Bureau. Marytown fills a number of spiritual needs and offers a beauty unsurpassed in many churches around the area. The friars wish to share those gifts with others.

"It's a place where people can come and experience solitude and inner peace," said Michael Wick, administrative assistant at Marytown. "You can come to Marytown and find silence."

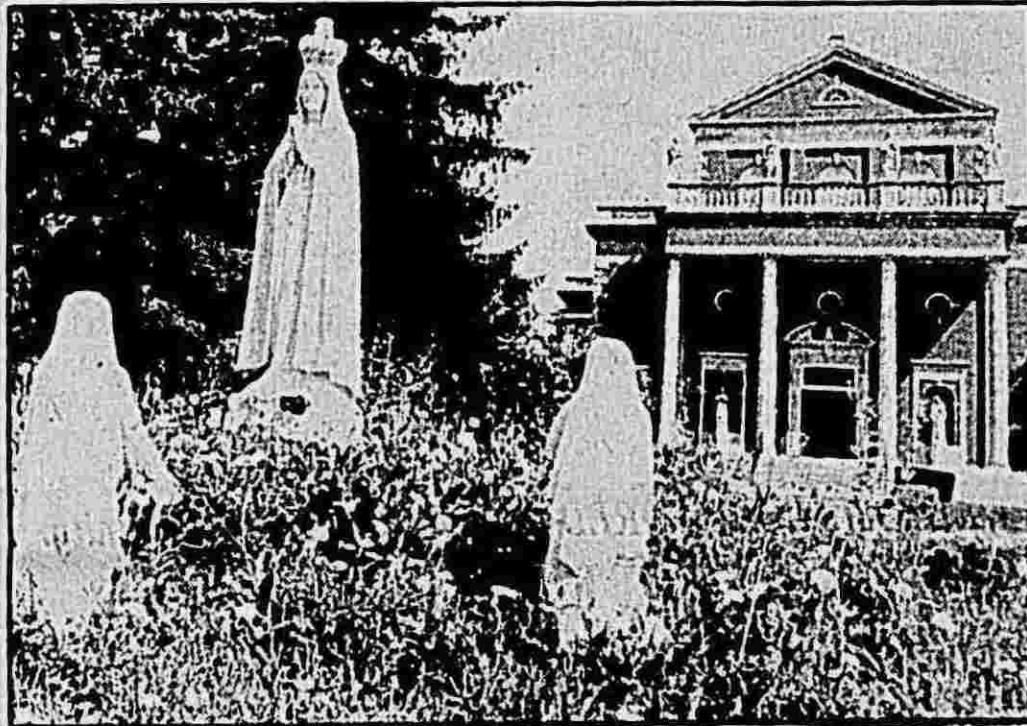

Originally built as a permanent memorial after the 28th International Eucharistic Congress of the Catholic Church in America, Marytown was to be a Sanctuary of Perpetual Adoration. His Eminence George Cardinal Mundelein invited the Benedictine sisters of Perpetual Adoration of Clyde, Mo., to staff the facility.

Groundbreaking took place in 1927, on donated land, with Cardinal Mundelein presiding. The architecture blended in with the buildings of the Archdiocesan Seminary nearby. The convent opened in 1928. Construction on the permanent chapel began in 1931 and was completed the following year.

By the 1970s, the Sisters were no longer able to staff the sanctuary, and it was purchased by the Conventual Franciscan Province of St. Bonaventure and became the home of the Franciscan Friars of Marytown, who moved down from Kenosha, Wis. The primary ministry of the friars is to promote the principles and programs of the Militia Immaculatae, founded by St. Maximilian Kolbe in 1917.

Kolbe was a Conventual Franciscan priest in Poland at the time of the Nazi invasion in 1939.

As you travel along Rte. 176 at the border of Mundelein and Libertyville, look to the north and you will get a glimpse of Marytown/St. Maximilian Kolbe Shrine.—Photo by Gene Gabry Confined at Auschwitz, he offered his life in place of a fellow prisoner and was killed in 1941. He was canonized by Pope John Paul II in 1982, when the Holy Father called him "a martyr of charity" and "the patron of our difficult century." Marytown was designated as a shrine to Kolbe in 1988.

"We want to share this witness with others," said Wick, "to honor his testimony of faith."

Stained glass windows, statuary and oil paintings can be found throughout the building, but the center of attention is the Eucharistic throne. A replica of a Roman basilica, the chapel may seem unnecessarily opulent, but "nothing is too good for the Lord." Adjacent to the main chapel are the Kolbe/Passion Chapel and the Chapel of the Sorrowful Mother. Intricate mosaics along the walls depict moments in Kolbe's life and the history of the Church.

The chapel is never empty; 24-hour-a-day adoration was begun by the Sisters in 1928 and continues today. Someone is always available to answer the phone during the night or reach out to anyone in need. Some are only seeking a quiet place.

"Marytown is a place to come and find peace and tranquility," said Wick.

It is also a place to find an impressive collection of religious and secular treasures, including saints' relics, vestments, and artwork. These are housed in the Sacristy Museum; visitors will also find the Marytown Gift shop offering anything from rosaries to children's toys. The book section includes a selection of volumes in Spanish.

Not only are the friars trying to reach out to the Hispanic community, but construction at the reception area attests to their efforts to make Marytown accessible to everyone. Work on a new entrance will end with the installation of ramps.

The chapel itself is open from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m., with daily and evening masses and a number of other special services, programs and activities. For a schedule of events, call 367-7800.

Better yet, come over to 1600 W. Park Ave. and experience the beauty of Marytown.

Ixtapa/Zihuatanejo A Sports Fisherman's Dream

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

About 150 miles north of Acapulco Mexico is the relatively new resort area of Ixtapa with its miles of pristine white sand beaches and fabulous hotels.

However, back when Ixtapa was nothing more than a forest of Mangrove trees, its sister town of Zihuatanejo was a thriving fishing village.

Fishing village you say? Must mean the fishing is pretty good if these people made their living at it!

How about a 120 lb. sailfish? Looking for some real game fish? 600 lb. marlin are not uncommon! Yellowfin tuna run as large as 220 lbs. Mahi-mahi (called Dorado in these parts) as large as 50 lbs. come out of the waters around Ixtapa.

Zihuatanejo still retains its traditional fisherman's way of life. Local skippers come from generations of family fishermen and are experts at locating any kind of game fish.

Boats range from 24 foot outboard launches to 38 foot sports fishers. A day of fishing ranges from $120 to $250 which includes bait, tackle and soft drinks. Ask your hotel to prepare a box lunch.

Catch and release is becoming popular as well as a program called "Tag and Release". A marlin recently tagged in Ixtapa showed up in Australia! If you do land that too-good-to-be-true trophy fish, you can have it mounted and shipped back to the U.S. for about $500.

Another way to appreciate your catch is to eat it!! Your crew will fillet your catch and several restaurants, such as Casa Elvira or La Mesa del Captain, will prepare your meal for a slight charge.

Arrangements for fishing can be made through your hotel desk or directly with the Recreational & Sportsfishing Boat Cooperative. Their office is on the pier at Avenida Ruiz Cortinez 40 in Zihuatanejo (phone 42056.)

Group to give wetland tours

The premiere wetland site in the county is located along three miles of the Des Plaines River in Wadsworth. The Des Plaines River Wetlands Demonstration Project comprises 450 acres of riparian land which provides the nesting grounds for numerous species of birds including several endangered species. Yet, not a lot of people are familiar with the site or have ever visited.

The Citizens for a Better County (CBC) want residents to know about this wetland site and the group is sponsoring an informational/educational day from 1 to 4 p.m., Sunday, May 22.

The day will include guided tours and if participants are lucky they may even spot a yellow-headed blackbird, or another state-endangered species.

"This project is so important. It has allowed many endangered species that migrate to find nesting grounds," said Loretta McCarley of the CBC.

The CBC was formed in the fall of 1993 to promote the Wetlands Demonstration Project as well as to fight the county's Yorkhouse Road extension plan which would cut through the wetlands.

Although county officials maintain a road would not be detrimental to the project and would allow more public access to it, the CBC and other environmentalists believe the road would negatively affect the project.

"We want people to become aware of the project, to be informed and to make their own decision," said McCarley.

"We want to get people out there, to feel it and see it and to see what can be lost by putting through a road."—by

DONNA ABEAR

From Pablum to Picasso

I'm having a hard time believing it, but my first born son is about to graduate from high school in five days. Not only that, but he knows exactly what college he will be attending and what he wants to do in his adult life—he wants to be an artist. That's pretty impressive. I mean, look at me—I'm still trying to decide what I want to be when I grow up.

Some children seem to be born with special skills or talents. Now that I think about it, my son probably knew even as a baby that he wanted to be an artist. That explains why he always fingerpainted in his hair with Spaghettios. His Andy Warhol period, no doubt.

Of course, it's easy for parents to notice obvious talents, like art or musical ability. But if you really pay attention, you'll find that there are many other childhood behaviors that can give you a clue as to what kind of profession your son or daughter may ultimately choose. I've made a list below of a few of them—see if your child fits any of these descriptions:

Actor/actress: At the slightest injury or injustice, falls to the floor and feigns death. Banker: Requests a copy of your credit history before you borrow from her piggy bank. Comedian: Entertains your dinner guests by putting his underwear on his head and making obscene noises with his armpit.

Entomologist: Hides cookies under the furniture to study the habits of ants. Lawyer: When asked whether he hit his sister, he answers, "That depends. Is there a witness?" Plumber: Has to visit the bathroom in every building he enters. Real Estate Salesperson: Gives tours of your home to all her friends. "This is my parent's bedroom. That's my dad over there. He's the one who's snoring."

Receptionist: Answers the phone for you when you're busy. "Hold on a minute—mommy's in the bathroom right now." Teacher: Instructs her baby brother in the language arts. "Repeat after me—I am a butthead."

Remember this is just a guide. Actually, with my 6-month-old daughter, I've decided to give nature a little help, I'm grooming to her to be president. "Ok, sweetie, shake my hand. That's good. Smile for the camera. That's wonderful! Now, repeat after me—'No comment at this time.' Now smile again. Very, very good!"

I'll let you know how it turns out!

In the meantime, congratulations to the 1994 graduates—may you each find the path that's right for you.

Allendale plans 'Magic of Spring' dinner dance

Allendale will honor the Allendale Shelter Club at its "Magic of Spring" dinner dance at 6:30 p.m., on Saturday, May 21 at Onwentsia Club in Lake Forest.

The Allendale Shelter Club is a group of women from Lake Forest and Lake Bluff who raise money exclusively for Allendale. The group was founded in 1906 and over the years they have raised more than $2 million for Allendale.

There will be a special presentation on the Shelter Club that will include a short video highlighting the organization's efforts.

Good Food

Celebrate Spring with nature's bounty

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

With spring comes a natural craving for more fruits, vegetables and salads.

President of Bays Corporation, George Bay, suggests adding a hint of springtime to ready-made salads with pungent, fresh herbs, such as snipped dill, or seasonal fresh fruits, such as juicy green grapes or fragrant sweet melon.

Shrimp and Melon Mosaic Salad

Salad:

3/4 pound shrimp, cooked, peeled, deveined, cut into pieces (yields 2 cups)

1 cup cut cantaloupe pieces

1/2 cup chopped unpeeled cucumber (avoid seeds)

2 tablespoons finely chopped green onion

1 tablespoon fresh dill

Dressing:

1/3 cup mayonnaise

2 tablespoons catsup

2 teaspoons Cognac

1 teaspoon lemon juice

dash of pepper

6 Bays English Muffins

Chives for garnish

Combine shrimp, cantaloupe, cucumber, green onion, dill and orange zest in medium-size bowl. Combine mayonnaise, catsup, Cognac, lemon juice, salt and pepper, blending well. Pour over shrimp mixture and toss gently. Serve on toasted muffin halves, allowing about 1/4 cup per muffin half. Garnish.

Williams outshines 'Being Human'

Robin Williams

Robin Williams has seldom been accused of being boring, mundane, or just plain normal.

He is often called crazy, bizarre, hysterically funny, and always labeled as one of the most talented people around show business.

He is able to move from the almost slapstick "Mrs. Doubtfire," to the emotionally deep "Being Human," as fast as he switches beats in his comedy act. And everything he does is top flight.

He doesn't always choose vehicles that measure up to his talents, but his performance is always top rate, ergo flicks like "The Toy," and "The Fisher King," and who could forget the ever-so-strange "The World According to Garp."

"Being Human," shows Williams in a vulnerable and lovable light, as well as sometimes putting him on the pitiful side, a personality that is almost as alien to his fast talking comedian as was his first TV smash "Mork."

This is the type of movie that draws critical raves, and probably won't bring in the megabucks that "Doubtfire," or "Good Morning Vietnam," did.

"Being Human" is a chronology of five men all named Hector, one is a cave-man, the next lives in Caesar's Rome, another in the DeMedici's Italy, one in the Spain and Portugal of Christopher Columbus, and the last in the New York of Frank Sinatra and Liza Minnelli. Bad things happen to all of these men, and their families, which of course tends to be depressing, but Williams' humanity keeps it a level above, because no matter what happens to any of the Hectors, he seems to be telling us to look past life's problems, learn to push them in the background, while we do a little stopping and smelling of the roses.

The script sometimes gets tedious, often a bit much, but when Williams does his thing, all is forgiven.

"I think it is very accurate," said McConnell, who is starting her 17th year on the force this year.

Although being so close to the story, she found it almost eerie at times. "It is kind of weird to read about yourself."

McConnell had been traveling in Russia when the case broke April 7, 1990 with the Langerts deaths, but lucked into it after one of Biro's friend's came to her and told her what Biro had said and about the gun he used.

"It was kind of a game to him to brag about it or get away with it," she said.

Having the Laurie Dann murder case take place two years earlier helped the police in knowing how to handle the Langert's murder investigation.

"We really were not familiar in our own agency with the task force concept," she said. Once it happened, they knew they needed additional phone lines installed, they needed to have a media liaison to handle the onslaught of requests from local, Chicago and national news outlets, and they needed to request additional manpower from other departments.

Kalvaitis had been the press officer for the department on the Dann case two years beforehand. For that he spoke with task force officers every day and then briefed news reporters on any updates.

He thinks he was put in charge of the Langert task force because of his previous investigation work, as both a supervisor and on-the-street patrol.

Another problem was having to learn how to deal with such a big case with limited resources, as Winnetka only has 27 sworn officers, which McConnell said put them at somewhat of a disadvantage.

They also did not have much experience dealing with murder.

The last murder before Dann killed eight-year-old Nicky Corwin on May 20, 1988 had been the shooting death of a Winnetka police officer in 1957 by a man who then shot himself, according to the book. Before that, two people had been killed in separate shootings by robbers more than 100 years earlier.

Both Kalvaitis and McConnell called the case the biggest they have been a part of.

"To catch a murderer was the biggest case I worked on," she said.

McConnell was also involved with the Dann case, driving the substitute teacher, who unsuccessfully tried to wrestle the gun away from Dann before she shot five children, around the neighborhood of the school trying to find Dann.

Times have changed the cases McConnell usually works on, which used to be property crime and burglaries, but within the last seven years have started becoming more and more violent crimes against other persons within the community. "I think there has been an upswing in crime in that we see more crimes against persons, even in the North Shore," she said.

While the book gives a well-rounded version of the victims, she thought a more interesting tale would be of how the Langert's families have gone on with their lives. Kalvaitis also said there were other aspects of the case which were omitted that could have been included, but did not want to sound detrimental in anyway on the final outcome.

The book is vague on why Biro chose the Langert's home, and the police are still really unsure themselves. McConnell said there is some evidence that both the Langert's and Biro's families had been distant acquaintances.

Biro is now 22-years-old and was sentenced to the death penalty in Dec. of 1991.

Of the smeared images Nancy Langert drew in her own blood before she died, some people thought they may have been initials in Biro's last name. McConnell thinks it was something different.

While she thinks she definitely tried to identify the killer, she thinks the images represented "I love you" for her husband, Richard, who had immediately died upon being shot in the head.

As an addendum to the case, Kalvaitis received an award from the Chicago branch of the Sherlock Holmes Society, which consists of police officers, lawyers and lay-people who share an interest in crime and crime solving during a ceremony held May 14.

The group chose to honor him for his contributions in solving the Langerts murder.

Free fishing days scheduled

Communities, park districts, service organizations and outdoor clubs are urged to plan Free Fishing Days activities June 10 through 13, when Illinois and non-resident anglers can fish without purchasing annual fishing licenses, salmon stamps or inland trout stamps.

"Individuals who haven't fished for awhile and those who want to give fishing a try will find Free Fishing Days a great way to experience the sport," said Conservation Director Brent Manning. "By borrowing gear from a friend or buying an inexpensive cane pole, they can fish for free on Illinois lakes and rivers and learn firsthand what a great sport fishing is."

During Free Fishing Days, park departments, civic groups, bait shops, media outlets, fishing clubs and other organizations can sponsor public activities such as fishing contests. Some may choose activities for children, while others may decide to offer events for various age groups or disabled anglers. The Department of Conservation will assist local events by providing publicity and educational materials for youths and adults.

Depending on the number of participants, each scheduled local event also will receive two to six Plano tackle boxes, provided by the Plano Molding Co. As co-sponsor for Free Fishing Days in Illinois for the eighth consecutive year, Plano is donating 300 tackle boxes for distribution statewide.

The Illinois promotion, which is celebrating its 10th year, is held in conjunction with National Fishing Week. Last year, more than 70 local events were scheduled throughout the state.

For information on sponsoring a local Free Fishing Days event, contact Dick Garfat, Department of Conservation, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62701-1787, or call (217)785-8955.

Floral designing workshops offered

Decorating dreams can come true! Douglas Clark, executive designer for Mangel and Co., is going to conduct a daily class in floral arranging at The Lofty Gourmet, 303 Old McHenry Rd., Long Grove from Monday, May 23 through Friday, May 27. Each two-hour class will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a cost of $40 ($50 if lunch at Seasons of Long Grove is included).

The workshops are planned for people who may have specific projects in mind, according to Clark, who has conducted popular workshops in Long Grove over the past several years. "I noticed that many students wanted to create a specific decoration for a front door, a dining room table, or the top of an antique hutch," he notes. "Now we are offering an opportunity for everyone to come to Mangels, 421 Robert Parker Coffin Rd., at 8:30 a.m. to select materials for the project, or if they own a special container, they are welcome to work with that." A $5 coupon for merchandise will be given to be used for any purchase.

Clark will discuss how to begin, what to look for and how to use the materials selected. Each class will include a lesson on making bows, and then proceed to individual supervision from the instructor. "This way," Clark continues, "people will go home with exactly what they wanted to create."

Class size is limited to 20 students. For reservations or more information, phone 634-9287.

The Rockland Road House

Rockland Road House, a family owned business at 525 Rockland Road in Lake Bluff, makes it clear what they encourage for their restaurant. They are a family oriented dining destination and enjoy having mom, dad and the kids over for an evening out. Their professional staff is always courteous and welcomes you with their ever-changing daily specials.

Beyond the expected high quality of the food and the friendliness of the staff, customers can expect something new as well. Rockland Road House is in the process of completely remodeling their facility for added customer convenience and dining pleasure.

Once at the restaurant, the menu will not leave you wanting for more. Each menu grouping has a street name for a theme such as Garden Blvd. for salad, Acapulco Blvd. for Mexican foods, and Pasta Pkwy. for Italian dishes.

Of course, your choices don't stop there. The full selection includes wines, appetizers, seafood, chicken entrees, steaks, sandwiches, soups, items from the grill, egg dishes, desserts, and a children's menu.

Individuals in the mood for some entertainment can come for the bar specials and the live music. There are pool tournaments on Tuesdays and Reggae every Thursday. You won't go hungry at the bar with the free taco bar nearby.

Hours of operation are Mon.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-10 p.m., Fri. and Sat. 11 a.m.-10:30 p.m., and Sun. 11 a.m.-9 p.m. Their phone number is 295-7140.

WHERE TO Eat Out The Village Tavern, a bit of Americana

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Located in the heart of historic Long Grove, the Village Tavern offers the best of the 1990s in the exciting atmosphere of the 1920s.

Owned by the Sayles family, the restaurant has been around for more than 32 years, attracting diners from all over the county and beyond. After an afternoon of browsing in the many shops, there's nothing like a meal at the Village Tavern to restore the spirit.

Tempting dinner choices include a luscious top sirloin butt steak, available in two sizes, country fried chicken prepared the old-fashioned way in an iron skillet, and the Tavern's Pride baby back ribs. Pork chops, lamb chops and the Tavern's famous perch round out the varied menu.

Smaller appetites may opt for village stew or a Tavern burger. Don't forget to check out the daily specials and the broiled catch of the day on the blackboard.

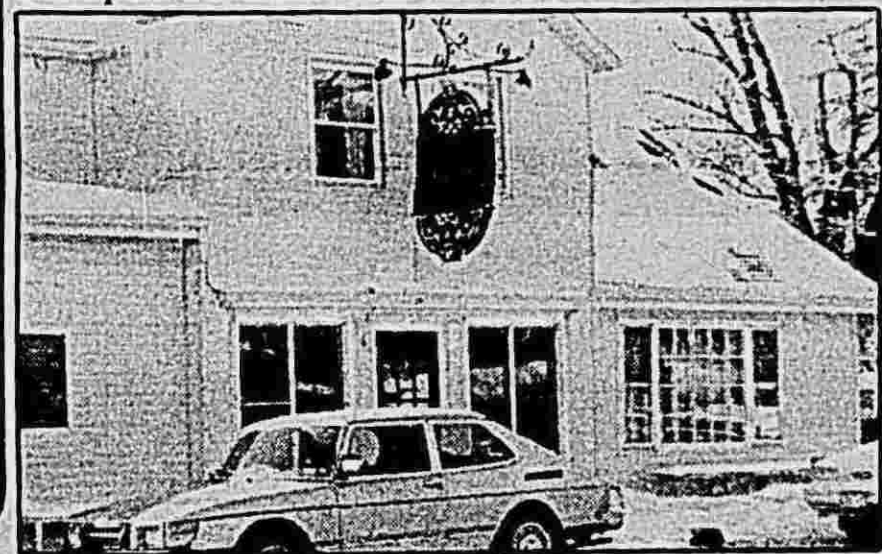

For a great deal, come in on Wednesday evening for all-you-can-eat chicken served with fries, slaw and homemade bread, while you listen to Roger Pauly on the piano. It's an evening the whole family will enjoy at the reasonable prices of $6.25 per person.

For an evening of fun, come to The Village Tavern on a Tuesday or Thursday night, when consigned items are offered in a spirited auction beginning at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday also features the new, all-you-can-eat meatloaf special served with mashed potatoes and a vegetable for only $6.50. On Thursday, make sure to try the all-you-can-eat Italian specials. Different main courses from Italy are served with all the fixings.

Friday evenings feature a sing-along with Bob Opal, and an all-you-can-eat fish fry. A Dixieland jazz band provides entertainment from 7 to 11 p.m. Saturday and 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Busy shoppers can take a mid-day break at the Village Tavern and enjoy one of the many sandwiches, salads or smaller portions of dinner features. The Country Salad offers a different combination every day and sandwiches range from broiled chicken breast to everyone's favorite Reuben. Lunch is served till 5 p.m.

The Village Tavern, located at 135 Old McHenry Rd., opens daily at 11:30 a.m., closing at 3 p.m. Monday, with the bar open until 5. Tuesday through Thursday food is served until 11 p.m. and the bar closes at midnight. On Friday and Saturday the bar stays open until 2 a.m. with food service until midnight. Sunday hours are 11:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. For reservations call 634-3117.

Support bus drivers

This is my response to 'Davis doesn't care'. At least the students were trying to stick up for the bus drivers. If she doesn't do anything about this, then she should not be the superintendent of Round Lake Schools.

A ring of truth

A young man says to his grandad, "Gee, Grandad, your generation didn't have all of these social diseases. What did you wear to have safe sex?" His grandfather answers, "a wedding ring." I'm calling from Lindenhurst.

This is for the Grant Township Highway Department. I would like to thank the young man who was going up and down the streets of Grant Township and doing the street cleaning. He is doing such and excellent job. We thank him.

Problem child

I'm a Gurnee resident and I'm calling in rebuttal to 'Classroom control' in Lipservice. The teachers at Gurnee schools in elementary right through high school are taking control of their classrooms. You must be the parent of the child who receives a lot of detentions. Because your child hasn't learned the basic rules of how to behave at home, they will need to learn that at school. My children have gone through eight years of the Gurnee school system and I repeat that not once has either of them received any detentions. If your statement had any truth in it, that the teachers at Viking Junior High hand out detention for trivial matters, then my children would not have had perfect records. Wake up. The problem child is yours. Make him or her accountable for his or her actions. Your child is the problem that annoys everyone else. Maybe parents in the 1970s did a better job at home with their children and the upswing in detention is not a reflection of the teachers but how you are parenting your child. They are your responsibility, not the teachers.

Don't drink and drive

I'd like to say 'how about it' to the person who called in about having no booze at the Antioch Fireman's Dance. Why do we have to have liquor to have a good time? Why are they asking people to drink and drive?

Gun riddance

I'd like to say bravo to the House passing the anti-gun legislation last week. As far as I'm concerned, they can start with taking the assault weapons, and end up by taking them all. Why do we need guns at all? They are all owned by toothless rednecks who kill animals or criminals who kill people. We don't need them in our society at all. The sooner the government takes all of them, the better. You know, Karl Marx was right about absolute government control ensuring the rights of everybody. He just couldn't put it together properly like our fine administration today with Bill and Hillary Clinton at the helm. Take them all away. Bravo.

Forgiveness is thine

I'm talking about the article in the Round Lake paper on April 29 where the Round Lake teacher does not accept the apology. I think it is time for Ken Kirby to open his eyes. The superintendent of Antioch has apologized. He has made a mistake. He has told everyone what he meant. I think the teacher has made a mistake in repeatedly bringing up the problem for our children to see. We need to teach our kids some pride and really some solid values. One of those values is to be able to forgive when someone screws up. Mr. Kirby, let's teach these kids the right things.

No secrets

Parents, if you think the information that is in your child's records at Round Lake High School is confidential, it is not. Some secretaries have been caught taking some information from student files for their own personal gain.

The end of the road

Why does the sidewalk end across from Quail Creek and Rte. 83? Why doesn't it continue north for the other school children? Why are young lives put in jeopardy because no one will further the life saving sidewalks in Grayslake? I am a very worried parent. Will you please print this? It is very serious business.

Reap more than you sow

This is in response to the debate over social security taxes and Antioch senior citizens. Last year, there was a documentary on WTTW, showing how the average senior citizen received back their entire contribution to social security within three years. If they retire and collect social security beyond three years, they are actually receiving money paid in by others.

Play ball

This is to the people who did the rescheduling for the Grant Township little league. Are you daft? It was not necessary to start the season the first week of May. You don't really have to have all the games finished by the Fourth of July. You scheduled opening day for May 14, yet you start games a full two weeks earlier. The essence of little league is that it should be a summer program. It now interferes with children's homework time because it is now going on during school. This year the children are in school until June 14 and little league plays only two weeks beyond that. Since they had tryout so earlier this year, some managers have been practicing since before Easter. This is ridiculous. Let's get it back to what it should be—a summer program.

Guns, drugs, and gangs

Why is Chicago-based developer Donald Somerville so bent on bringing down property values in Island Lake? Now that he had his trailer home proposal rejected, he wants to put CHA housing here. We don't need all this low income housing from Chicago. I know what happens when they build those units because in Elgin all we had were drugs, seedy looking places, and guns. Everyone in Island Lake should denounce this whole idea. I don't know what his problem is but he's got something against Island Lake and it makes me angry.

Home alone

Last week I attended a 100th anniversary celebration at Big Hollow School. The people who organized it did very well. The children were great—if you could have heard them. There were so many people who had children who did not want to be there. There was so much noise that we could not hear what was being said. I have a little advice for people. When you have small children who are bored and you cannot get them to sit down and be quiet, do everyone a favor and leave them at home.

Editorial note: Pardon us, but aren't there already too many parents who are taking your advice and rightfully going to prison for it?

If she's a beauty

This is regarding the lady who asked how to get her daughter in 2-year-old beauty pageants. I have been doing pageants for years with my girls. Most pageants have stopped for the younger ones because of over participation by the parents or uncooperative children under the age of 3. Most pageants start the girls at 4 years old, with a few starting at 3. There is one here every year at the Holiday Inn in Gurnee. Call them and they should know when it is coming. The larger newspapers print what local pageants are coming into the area. Good luck.

Where's our money

I'm from Spring Grove and I would like to know what happened to the $100 we gave to the Nippersink Channel reclamation committee to get a lawyer so we could get our channels dredged. It appears that not all of the channels got dredged and we did not hear about the money. Will it returned to the homeowners who kicked in the $100 or will not? Please somebody, tell us what happened to it. See LIPSERVICE page B23

Hooray for caning

I'm calling from Round Lake. To the person who says hooray for caning, I'm with you. Why can people break the law and get away with it. In Singapore, they know what they've done and they don't do it again.

Bus driver's RAP sheet

Why is it that certain arrests don't appear in the police beat section of the Fox Lake Press? I understand that a bus driver from Stanton school was arrested on the possession of marijuana and fired shortly afterward. Shouldn't a bus driver be required to take a drug and alcohol test. By the way parents, does your child ride that bus? Do something now.

Let's have a Gacy fry

I'm calling in to celebrate the return to justice in Illinois. If only for a brief period of time. How much of the taxpayer's money should serial killers be allowed to spend. The answer is apparently as much as they want. Well, for John Wayne Gacy, the well has run dry and I'm delighted. His lawyers tried frantically to save his life on any technicality they could find. They even wanted to bar his execution based on the fact that lethal injection is inhumane. Inhumane? And I suppose that burying 33 mutilated and sexually tortured boys under your house is no more severe than planting your garden. I say, let the lawyers have their way. Then, the only recourse is the other approved method of execution in the state of Illinois. Do you know what that is? Let me give you a hint. Have a seat, my friend, good ol' Sparky will be ready and waiting. Do I smell something burning?

Like it or leave

This is to the Round Lake School's secretaries. You've been offered a 2 percent raise. Is that not better than nothing? If you don't like your job, then why don't you quit? I have a daughter who has been waiting for a long time to get a secretarial job in the Round Lake Area Schools. She has two children and she would love to work 9 months per year. That way she could be home with her kids in the summer time like you are. Like it or get out. I'm from Round Lake Beach.

Bovine adieu

We're from Round Lake Beach and we would like to say good-bye to the Hooks Farm. We have received a real pleasure the last 15 years, seeing all of the cows outside our house. We are kind of sad that the Super K is going up there. Thanks, and have a good life.

Customer appreciation

Why does your paper have so many misprinted words. Are there little kids running your business? I've never seen so many mistakes in my life. I would appreciate it if you would change it. Your customers do not appreciate this.

Ticket bonus

If in the past you have felt harassed by the Island Lake police department, just wait. Mayor Amrich and the village board recently approved a $1,000 bonus to the officer who writes the most tickets. Motorists, beware.

No zoning variances

Why is the Wauconda village board so anxious to grant variances to the zoning laws to appease the demands of the developers. This is against the wishes of the residents. We need a referendum on the November ballot prohibiting any variances of the zoning laws without the approval of the residents.

Kudos, Mayor Davis

I'm calling from Round Lake Beach. I'd like to say kudos to Mayor Davis and the 3 trustees who have the foresight to vote for Ed Sindles as the police chief here in Round Lake Beach. I think it has improved the police department and will be a very good political move for Mayor Davis and the village. Congratulations, Ed.

Hold your water

The purpose of the water management agency was to protect the Chain from abuse. Now they want complete control by keeping the water up all year for duck hunters. When the Corps of Engineers dropped it an extra 10 inches last fall, the water only got up to the edge of my property. What about the 100 percent raise in fees and the tax on pliers? I hope Skinner and the others vote it down. We will know who to vote for in the future. Okay, Lpservice, you can start cutting this one up. I know you speak very highly of the water management team. I'm from the Antioch chain.

Editorial note: It is not the intention of Lpservice to "cut up" anyone's call. Some editorial alterations are made in the interest of getting as many calls printed as possible. Others are edited because people assume everyone knows what they are talking about. Some calls, such as yours, may be accidentally altered because the speaking voice is difficult to understand. We do try our best.

One big problem

It seems that all we've heard about Antioch High School and all of their problems. Well, let's not forget about Warren, because our big problem is still there.

Tension is always in the air, mainly for his (the big problem) purpose. First of all, the football coach is threatened with being fired. Then the next week, he is told to forget it and that he'll be allowed to be coach. The man (the big problem) loves toying with people's minds. The athletic director retired, only to be re-hired the same night, as an assistant to the varsity football team.

Then, part of the history curriculum becomes part of the business curriculum just to save one of the good ol' boys. They're forgetting about what is good for the kids. The teachers in home economics and industrial arts are told their classes are being dropped from the curriculum, then they find out the next week that they are hearing impaired.

Then, they find out that the only honest administrator, who has dedicated 23 years of his life to Warren High School, is leaving. Does anybody care, or ask about what is really going on at Warren High School? Maybe the high school should be called the funny farm, led by one vindictive individual. I'm from Gurnee.

Rockin' the boat

Fox Lake has games. As for the river boat gambling, let Hamsher do something that he knows how to do—bury it. Forget about wasting any more Fox Lake money on these ridiculous things.

Big shops

I'll bet readers were appalled in finding out how much money Gurnee gets in sales tax revenue. Out of the 13 communities listed, Antioch was 12th. When will our officials realize we need some big stores in our area to help our community and provide more services, not just the small ones we have now. We in Antioch love the area but it is ridiculous to go elsewhere to shop to save money. Please bring some big stores here.

Ever wonder why?

Here are some questions for the parents of the Warren Township High School students. Did you ever wonder why there is only one American teacher at Warren High School? She is not being rehired for the next year. Did you ever wonder why they have only one Asian teacher? He's taking a new job for next year. Did you ever wonder why the assistant principal is leaving the school after 23 years. Did you ever wonder why teachers are rudely interrupted when having private conversations? Did you ever wonder why teachers are updating their resumes, wanting to leave Warren High School? Maybe you could answer these questions with a question. Ever wonder what would happen if you fired the superintendent? It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure it out. Does it? I'm from Wadsworth.

Who's working for whom?

Thank you Lpservice. This is not much more than two cents worth. I'm sorry I missed the bulk of the township meetings in Antioch. Thank you to the residents who had the insight and the guts to ask where the taxpayers money is being spent. Along with all the other members of local organizations, I pay my dues and receive a copy of the treasurer's report. All the citizens pay much more in taxes and should be able to see where our money is going. Instead, our local officials are making us chase around to get permission from another authority. Who's working for whom? I was sure that you and I are paying for salaries to get benefits for these good ol' boys.

The sign means stop

I'm from Wauconda, and I would like to address all of the inconsiderate people who park in front of the stop sign on the street in front of the post office. They park there and run in to do their business. I tell them they are parked in front of a stop sign and it doesn't seem to help. We need a cop there for a couple of days to discourage that.

Open 'round the clock

I really hope that someone important reads this like a mayor, judge, senator, or a congressman etc., most of which do not have much common sense. The shortages and overcrowding in our prison could be easily remedied. Have the prison open for 24 hours a day. Use the same bed for three people. Eight hours of sleep, 8 to 10 hours of work and six hours of constructive use. They don't need personal items in their cells. Women do not need nail polish or makeup in their cells. Neither sex needs smoking materials. They don't deserve anything except to sustain life, which is food and drink. Make it rough, not easy. They give up their rights when they commit a crime. As far as our juvenile delinquents, build a huge prison in the middle of the desert. If they attempt to escape, the elements will get them. Wake up, America.

First impressions last

Dear Round Lake School secretaries: I have lived in Round Lake for a couple of years now, and have cause to be in a number of the schools for various reasons. I don't need the details or the reasons, but I have heard a lot of comments about being underpaid and overworked. Just remember this, you never get a second chance to make a first impression. Most of you, on the first impression, are rude, and would never last in the real business world.

Advertising litterbugs

I live in Lake Zurich in a new subdivision. We've been inundated with all of these advertising flyers. They put them on our garage door, the door to the house, and on the flag on the mailbox. One day, I came home and there were 10 of them in front of my house. I'd like to encourage advertisers to use the newspapers and the mail. I've declared war on the businesses that don't know enough to respect customers' property. We have enough litter as it is.

Editorial note: We'd like to commend you on your obvious intelligence and the depth of your common sense in suggesting the newspaper as the proper advertising medium.

Beer club offers flavorful brews

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Every year, before the third Sunday in June, you hear the same rhetoric about Father's Day and the age old tradition of giving ties. Of course, tie retailers suggest that you just haven't given dad the right one yet, but that is no reason to discontinue your valiant efforts.

There is at least one Lake County area company in Lakemoor that offers a unique alternative to staid gifts. New marketing slogans would probably come to the forefront such as "help Dad tie one on" or "give a gift with taste."

Membership in the Great American Beer Club can bring fresh beer's from the country's finest microbreweries to your doorstep. Each month, members receive a bottled 12-pack comprised of 3 different brews. Pilsners, lagers, darks, ambers, bocks, stouts, and ales are represented over the course of a year. Selections change each month, but as the company states, one element remains the same—the bold, full-bodied taste that has come to characterize hand-crafted microbrewed beer.

"Mass-produced beer—even imported—includes additives to help prolong shelf life. Microbreweries are geared toward lower production and immediate consumption, so preservatives are unnecessary," says the Club's president, Doug Doretti. "We are able to offer these specialty beers to our current members while flavor and freshness are at a peak."

Doretti went on to say that, because of the lack of preservatives, which greatly enhances taste, the fresh-brewed beers have a shelf life of three months, or six months when refrigerated. They are ordered directly from a choice of 150 separate American breweries each month.

Great taste is one benefit that the Club espouses. Another is the access and diversity of brews that membership affords. The club's selections enjoy a loyal following in the immediate area where they are brewed, but are nearly impossible to find elsewhere. That dilemma has changed. The Great American Beer Club does the leg work in

Officials at the Great American Beer Club sound a 'cheers' to American-microbrewed beer, displayed on the table in front of them. Members can sign on to the club and receive a year's membership, giving them the privilege of tasting over 50 different microbrewed beers. finding and forwarding the nation's best brews, which are products that members most likely would otherwise not have a chance to sample and enjoy.

Monthly selections are chosen by a panel of tasters at the Club. By offering three different beers each on month, The Great American Beer Club can appeal to a variety of palates and preferences. And since there are four bottles of each variety, member can savor and share their favorites with others. What if they have a favorite they want to savor on a regular basis?

"Members can contact us and special order any of our products as much as they want, separate from the regular program," Doretti said.

The cost of monthly membership is $15.95, plus shipping. To enroll or order a gift membership call the their 24-hour number, 1-800-879-2747.

Microbreweries think small and grow

Long regarded as the working man's beverage, beer has shed its pedestrian image and making decidedly upscale strides. And moving along with it are two entrepreneurs who are making America's finest microbrewed beers available to aficionados everywhere.

Described as flavorful, distinctive and fresh, microbreweries model production after the German Purity Law of 1516, which mandates only barley, hops, yeast and water be used. Consequently, microbrews are free of preservatives and fillers, such as rice, corn and foaming agents that can be found in mass-produced beers.

Although production is small (industry figures estimate 1.2 million barrels annually, or one percent of the total domestic beer market), microbreweries represent a growing segment in an otherwise flat beer market. Although the growth of microbreweries might seem inconsistent with the overall national decline in alcohol consumption, two trends are compatible.

"People are drinking less, but they're drinking better. These are beers to be savored and enjoyed, just as you would a fine wine. There's almost an art to the appreciation of these kind of brews," said Doug Doretti, President of The Great American Beer Club, of Lakemoor.

"Not long ago, European beers were the choice of serious beer drinkers. Microbreweries took that taste and improved on it. And now, with a distribution system like the Great American Beer Club, consumers can enjoy craft See BEER page C4

Construction brings shuttle, rides down

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Construction on I-94 is not only causing a headache for motorists, but a nearby theme park is being impacted as well.

George Degirolamo, vice president of marketing for Six Flags Great America, told a Gurnee club of options for theme park fans.

"We did know of I-94 repairs, but it is hard to say what can be done. Delays could be an hour or one and one-half hours. Our main concern is for picnics," Degirolamo said.

When people call the theme park, they are told of recommended alternates Rtes. 41 or 120.

Weather has not been kind to those spending a day on rides or at park shows. It rained the first two Saturdays the park is open.

But in spite of the traffic and weather woes, park officials expect a strong season. This is led by the new ride, Space Shuttle America.

"It is very realistic, multisensory experience," Degirolamo told Gurnee Rotary Club members. "It gives a sense of what space shuttle travel will be like in the 21st Century."

Participants receive a "briefing" in the Mission Control before boarding a 3.5 minute "flight" to Armstrong City, a pretend space station on the moon.

Six Flags worked with Dream Quest, which produced such movies as 'Indiana Jones' and 'Abyss' as well as NASA throughout the production process.

Scott Carpenter, one of the original Mercury Seven astronauts, was on hand for a preview.

"They expect tourism to the moon to be a key component," DiGirolamo said.

Six Flags Great America co-sponsored a scholarship contest and 40 winners were honored at the space shuttle ride's grand opening.

Those waiting in line will have the benefit of not having to just stand in place for the expected 30-minute wait. The park has established cameras so people can be entertained.

Local officials have praised the ride as well.

"It gives the park balance of an educational element," Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton said.

CLC board adopts new policy

The College of Lake County board of trustees approved a new family medical leave policy at their last board meeting. The proposed policy adds new benefits required by law without reducing existing benefits already granted by previous policies.

Under the new policy, employees will be eligible for unpaid leave if they have a serious illness or wish to care for a new-born child or a family member with a serious health condition. Employees who have worked at CLC for at least 12 months will receive up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave and employees who have worked on a continuous full-time basis for at least 36 months will be eligible for up to one year of unpaid leave.

At the end of the leave, employees will return to their jobs. If an employee's original position is unavailable, the college will return the employee to a position he or she is qualified to hold. Granting of family medical leave will be subject to approval from the board of trustees.

Business has the bead on jewelry

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

When it comes to fashion, most people would probably like to forget the 1970s. That was an era that conjures up lateful memories of bell-bottom pants, shag rug, disco clothing, blonde furniture, and plastic beads.

Thank fully, most of those items have gone by the wayside when discussing fashion statements, including the infamous plastic bead.

A new store in Libertyville, Beauty and the Bead on Milwaukee Ave., truly blends the two things that the name implies. The product carried in that store is not at all like the what the mind conjures up when the word bead is mentioned.

"Almost everybody has beads in their home, and they probably don't even realize it, such as a pearl necklace," says Carol Greenspan, owner, "technically, anything with a hole in it that can be strung is classified as bead."

Those things with holes in them that Greenspan carries in her store are composed of glass, metal, ceramic, and semi-precious stones, and are priced between 5 cents and $15 per piece. She also carries a full line of ancillary parts for jewelry-making, known as findings.

In fact, jewelry-making is the focus of her business. The store has workstations, complete with tools, for customers to come in and try their own hand at the art. She also sells tools and books on jewelry-making if people want to

Greenspan even has room in the store for parties, which she says have been very successful since she opened her doors in April. The experience may remind some of getting together to stitch a quilt.

The idea for her store originally began from her hobby of making beaded jewelry and other beaded items. Greenspan moved from an apartment into her current home in Round Lake Beach because what was quickly becoming a home business demanded more space. She hasn't stopped there. She has already been contacted about the possibility of teaching a class in the Mundelein High School adult education program.

As far as she knows, there are no other stores like hers in Lake County. One would have to travel to suburban Cook County for the closest competitive location.

Greenspan, a six year resident in the area, has one son, Adam, and two cats.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Terri Murphy

When selling a home senior citizens have options

Selling a home is difficult enough, and moving seems an overwhelming project. Add having to make personal decisions about choosing a new location and liquidating personal items and the decision becomes a bit more confusing!

A mistake is often made when making a residence change without enough information on the new destination. Spending two weeks in Florida may be fun, but checking out year 'round living is quite another point.

First step

If you own your home, the first step is the easiest. Knowing approximately what your real present equity position is lends clearer perspective for any housing changes you might be considering. Get a market appraisal on your home, indicating what similar properties like yours have been selling for in the past six to eight months. There is no obligation to market your home until you are ready. If the appraisal or competitive market analysis is over six months old, it can be out of date and no longer accurate. The biggest mistake most homeowners make, is predicating a new purchase based on equity they expect from the sale of a present home. Avoid financial crunches or unexpected surprises later and get current market updates!

Consider your one time senior tax exemption for over 55 years of age. The IRS allows a one time pass on capital gains taxes and you definitely want to use this opportunity at the right time of your life. The tax advantages that are right for your present situation.

There are several advantages to staying where you are. Knowing the area and having established relationships with family, friends, and a professional network are important considerations. Often times a senior owns their home free and clear which means no mortgage payment! You can take advantage of your high equity on the property through a type of loan that pays you monthly instead of you paying them.

The Home Equity Conversion is a loan on the equity in your home paying you income on a monthly basis instead of all at one time. Depending on the value of your home this "reversed mortgage" may be for you and available through your local lender.

There are positives and negatives to this finance tool. Be sure to contact your lender to find out if this program will suit your needs.

Renting

Renting is another option to consider when debating lifestyle changes. By selling your present home, you are free of homeowner responsibilities repairs and upkeep. The plus side to this decision is the freedom of actually living in an area you might be considering without the risk of a large investment. Visiting a new place for two weeks often does not provide a full enough focus on all the positives and negatives a new area may offer. Better to not invest for a few months to see if the day to day living in a new climate or area is the right one for you. Being away from family and friends may be another criteria in your long term housing decisions.

The other side of renting involves the relationship with the landlord/management, and the provisions of the lease. How often can the rent increase? Who pays for repairs? Does the lease tie you up for six months, one year, or month to month? Renting is generally a good option before making a permanent decision, however, there is no opportunity to build equity or having your housing dollars work for you should you rent for a long period of time. Rent increases, problems with other tenants in the building, security, pet restrictions and repairs may all be reasons you would rather own your own place. If you do have substantial equity left over from the sale of your present home, check with a good real estate counselor to study the options of purchasing.

Trading down

What served a growing family now seems excessively spacious when it's just down to the two of you. If heating and maintenance bills are not what you intend to spend your retirement dollars on, then trading down may be the answer. Condominiums and townhomes often provide a convenient answer to living options. This fashion of living solves the exterior maintenance problems easily.

Often an "association" handles the day to day maintenance, scavenger service, lawn and snow maintenance and exterior repairs. For this service, you agree to pay a monthly "maintenance fee" to cover your share of the expenses. Taking extended vacations is easier and more relaxing when you don't have to be concerned about exterior care. Often times included in the monthly fee is a provision for some types of security depending on the amenities. The negative side is the fees can change depending on general assessments and other changes in the development. It is also important to find out what percentage of the occupants are owners or tenants. Resale of the units is affected when financing is needed if the percentage of owner occupied properties is lower. In addition, on site owners are more aware of possible repairs and problems. Be sure to have your real estate attorney review the Declarations & Covenants and Rules & Regulations!

The positive side is all you do is walk in and turn the key, all the exterior responsibilities are handled for you. Retirement Communities are designed specifically to meet the needs of senior housing. Some offer members swimming pools, golf, and tennis.

Things to think about:

•Contact your financial planner, tax attorney and accountant to study your financial position when making a major housing change.

•Get an accurate market analysis on your present home to determine your equity position and purchase power when switching from your present home. A real estate professional can counsel you on factors like costs to sell, costs to buy, coordinating the move and finding ancillary assistance for services like selling extra furniture, cleaning services, etc.

•Have your attorney review the fine print on any new purchase so that they may be able to explain to you the rules that you must follow when switching to condo or townhome living.

Editors note: Questions, or comments may be directed to Terri Murphy, Box 6234, Libertyville, IL 60048.

Some vegetables make better bedmates

More and more people are growing vegetables because they know that not only is the taste better when picked fresh from the garden, but home-grown are so much cheaper than shop-bought.

Being able to pick at the peak of tenderness and serve within an hour or two of picking is a revolution for the taste buds.

It's essential to sow when the soil is moist but not wet or waterlogged. It pays to buy top-quality seeds and plants. Sow seeds in drills and never forget the old well-proven saying: Don't sow too early, too deeply or too thickly.

Some Lake County gardeners might say that you shouldn't plant vegetables side by side because you won't get a good yield. Take that—as you would your vegetables—with a pinch of salt.

others, and for what it's worth, here is a list of "compatible bedmates."

Asparagus—basil, parsley, tomatoes.

Beets—carrots, onions, kohlrabi, cauliflower, kale, broccoll, Brussels sprouts, turnips, cabbage.

Carrots—onions and parsley (which repel carrot flies), beets, peas, sage.

Corn—beans, cucumbers, lettuce, soybeans, spinach.

Lettuce—cabbage, onions, radishes.

Nasturtiums—potatoes.

Onions—carrots, lettuce, radishes.

Peppers—carrots, eggplants, peas.

Strawberries—borage, lettuce, basil, nasturtiums.

Large variety of shade-loving perennials is available

Time and time again we get asked, "What perennials can I plant in the shade?" For now, I'd like to talk about some perennials beside the hostas, ferns and astilbes that will grow well in the shade. This isn't a knock against these plants, however here's a partial list of some others.

The Dicentra spectabilis, Common Bleeding Heart, grow one to two feet high. The flowers are 1 1/2 inches long, in a one-sided raceme nine inches long with a rose or red color. This plant needs moist, well drained soils, as do most shade plants.

The Epimedium, called Barrenwort, are great rock garden plants and are good as a groundcover. The grandiflorum and x rubrum are generally used. The grandiflorum has stems 12 inches high. Flowers are one to two inches across, pink with white tipped spurs. The x rubrum is a bright pink to crimson with white spurs. With a bit of protection, sometimes the foliage may keep green over the winter.

The Helleborus orientalis, Lenten Rose, is the easiest species of the genus to grow. It can attain a height of 18 inches with a cluster of two to six flowers, two inches wide. The color can vary from cream to purplish pink which fades to a brown color on a branched, leafless stem.

The Ajuga reptans, Burgundy Glow, is extremely versatile as it will grow in full sun to deep shade. The foliage is the showy part of this plant, showing green, white and dark pink to purple.

The Asarum canadense, Wild Ginger, or for a shinier leaf, the European Wild Ginger, is a bit harder than the europaeum. It attains a six to eight inch height, leaves are three to six inches wide. Flowers are one inch wide, bell-shaped, purplish green on the outside and deep maroon inside. This is a great companion plant with hostas, ferns and astilbes.

Some others are Disporum flavum, Fairy Bells. These bloom in spring and are a good choice for dry, shady areas. It attains a height of two to three feet,

Actaea rubra, Red Baneberry; Pulmonaria angustifolia, Blue Lungwort; or Pulmonaria saccharata, Bethlehem Sage, are beautiful shade perennials.—

Gardening provides children with invaluable experiences

Childhood development specialists have long understood the value of gardening. Gardening provides children with invaluable early life creative experiences. It also teaches a number of important life lessons, including a strong commitment to responsibility, and emphasizes the rewards one gains from care giving and nurturing.

Many experts believe that one of the most rewarding experiences a child can have is to reap the rewards of fresh flowers, fruits and vegetables grown in one's own garden.

Children as young as two years old can be successful gardeners. The trick, however, is to start on a scale to match the youngsters' physical capabilities and attention span. It's important to give children the benefit of early success by allowing them an easily-managed garden. In some cases, it might be just a bed of a few flowers, or one or two tomato plants.

You will be amazed at how children thrill at the joy of discovery by watching their very own plants grow, mature and bear fruit. The best time to lead them into more challenging and physically demanding tasks is after a year or two of fairly easy success.

To get started, choose an area where you know things will grow or are currently growing. Vegetables and annual flowers need a full day of sun and plenty of water. The area you choose for your beginning gardener should be level, to avoid having seeds or unestablished plants run off after a heavy rain or watering.

Clear the designed garden area of all vegetation. Many children seem to like having their garden staked and tied off with cord, making this their own special territory. Next, spread compost or peat moss or shredded leaves on the ground at the rate of two to three inches. Add a good general garden fertilizer, about one pound per 10 square feet. Work this into the soil.

The remaining preparation is to divide the garden into rows with stakes and string. Consult the seed packet information to determine how far apart rows should be and how deep to plant the seed.

After the work of planting is done, the real lessons of gardening begin, because it is time for "tending" before any results are seen. The child learns that this responsibility is necessary if future results are to be realized.

When the young plants reach two to three inches in height, "thin" out the garden by pulling out extra seedlings. Too many plants in one bed will rob all the plants of needed growing space and nutrients.

When plants reach three to four inches high, it's time to sprinkle small amounts of fertilizer along the side of each row, then water lightly. An alternative is to use a water soluble fertilizer, which will allow you to feed and water at the same time.

A weekly or twice-weekly weeding and watering is about the only care the new plants will need, until it's time to pick the flowers for an indoor bouquet or to harvest the fresh vegetables for the dinner table.

To teach a child gardening is to provide that child with a skill that will last a lifetime. Among some of their happiest memories, senior citizens often describe their early gardening experiences under the watchful eye of a caring adult. Begin now to build a joy of gardening that your children will always cherish.

Give shade lawn new life

Give lawns a new life by planting the seeds of success shade-tolerant grasses. A shaded lawn competes with trees and shrubs for available sunlight, water and nutrients, so it's important to use a seed that is up to the challenge.

Fine-leaved fescues and rough bluegrasses, such as Laser Poa trivialis, are the perfect example. Developed specifically to grow well in the shade, these varieties are quick to establish. Select fine-leaved fescues for dry, shaded areas and rough bluegrasses for damp shade. Other grass types are prone to diseases and will lack the growing strength necessary to survive in these areas.

Having a great lawn is not as simple as just planting the right grass seed, however. A shade-tolerant landscape needs special care and maintenance to ensure that grass plants stay strong and healthy.

Here are five easy ways Lake County homeowners can maintain the healthy good looks of a "made in the shade" lawn, according to the experts at Lofts Seed:

- Occasionally prune or thin trees and shrubs to increase the amount of air and light the lawn receives. Remove only the tree's inside or low-hanging branches. To protect against unnecessary tree damage, visit your local lawn and garden center and ask about appropriate pruning tools and procedures needed for the job.

- Replace large trees and shrubs with dwarf types, which will reduce competition with grass for sunlight and space. This may seem like an expensive option, but the long-term benefits will quickly outweigh the short-term costs in labor and money.

- Limit the amount of foot traffic on shaded lawns, which are generally thinner and more easily damaged than grass grown in full sun. Heavy wear also increases soil compaction, especially when the soil is wet, making it difficult for roots to grow in their search for food, water and air.

- Mow shaded lawns 3 to 4 inches high, rather than 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 inches normally recommended for sunny areas. Longer grass plants have more surface area available to catch sunlight needed for photosynthesis, which allows plants to take energy from the sun and convert it into food.

- Water shaded lawns deeply but infrequently, as they tend to stay moist longer than those in sunny areas. Allow the area to dry before watering again.

Follow these simple instructions and your lawn will have it "made in the shade" this summer.

"I placed this ad on a Tuesday in Lakeland Newspapers because, being a Wauconda Leader subscriber, I wanted my home offered locally. The Classified Ad-Visor helped write the copy and designed the ad in a very appealing manner, and it appeared in all 14 Lakeland Newspapers that Friday. By the next day I had received over 25 calls on the house. It was rented that day, but I still continued to receive calls, even two weeks after the ad ran. Thanks, Lakeland. Great results!"

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: What would you consider to be a reasonable period of time for a person to spend searching for a job on their own before they contact an employment agency or search firm for additional help? How much should a person expect to pay for these services? Thank you. Mrs. K.B. - Lake Villa

A: Dear Mrs. B. A reasonable period of time is as soon as the idea enters your mind that you may be seeking a change or suspect that you may be forced into an unemployed state. An Employment Agency should not be looked upon as a last resort. Licensed Agencies can provide a broad range of information to guide you through an interviewing process. Look for licensed Employment Agencies that do not charge applicants a fee.

Q: Please settle a bet. A friend mentioned that if I sign on with a search firm that it prohibits me from being able to continue to look on my own as well. The idea sounds ridiculous. W.S. - Libertyville

A: Dear W.S. It should sound ridiculous and it is! Make sure that you are not signing anything that says that. Whether or not a service is instrumental in making that happen or you do it on your own - The most important thing is to have wages coming in. Register with one that you feel will benefit your type of employment needs. Be open about what your likes and dislikes are. Focus more on what you want to do and less on what you are willing to settle for. Communicate honestly to your Counselor yet keep an open mind. Quite often a person sees himself going in one direction only, while a professional licensed counselor often sees various roads and avenues of potential career changes or availabilities that otherwise may never have occurred to him. If for nothing else - finding out what may lie ahead is probably intriguing enough to make anyone seeking a career change to jump at the chance to make an appointment. Always read any materials that you are asked to sign...anywhere! Look for those employment services that do not charge applicants a fee. Measure the success of your search by the results that you are seeing. Has there been good activity and communication between you and your counselor? Have you been set up with desirable interviews? Basically ... do you see it working for you? If the answer is yes ... great ... if no ... move on to another ... all the while continuing to look on your own and networking wherever possible.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

SIMPSON

The uniqueness of the 1804 square foot Simpson is due to its flexibility and livability for different lifestyles. With the master suite and a large bedroom at opposite ends of the house, this is a home for a family with an older child still living with Mom and Dad, but needing privacy, or perhaps an aging parent. Empty nesters who like to have a room ready for visiting grandchildren or other guests will also find this floor plan attractive.

To the left of the entry, the spacious vaulted living room offers a refuge from the daily grind. Here the family can relax in front of the fireplace and discuss the events of the day, read a good book or watch a favorite television program. Plenty of windows let you enjoy the view. To the right is the formal dining room. An adjacent stairway leads to the unfinished basement.

The kitchen, with cupboard and counter space on all four sides, plenty of natural light, and sliding glass doors that open onto a deck, is huge. A fold down ironing board, dishwasher and desk help make this a cook's delight.

The juncture between the central portion of the home and the angled wing that holds the master suite and garage is filled by a walk-in pantry with lots of shelves and a utility room with easy access to the garage for carrying in groceries or clothing soiled from outside work.

The master suite, with its own access to the back deck, offers a large walk-in closet with plenty of space for clothes. The master bath has twin basins that allows mirror space for all on a rushed morning.

The very generous second bedroom, at the far end of the house, has its own window seat - perfect for reading or just relaxing in the sunlight, and a large closet on either end. A roomy bathroom, with one basin inside the water closet, and another in a separate compartment, is right outside the door by the linen closet.

For a study kit of the SIMPSON (401-46), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Larsen Marine offers summer sailing courses

Many people dream of learning to sail. Now northern Illinois has a sailing school to help landlubbers live out their dream.

The Larsen Marine Sailing School on Waukegan Harbor will offer a range of beginning, intermediate and advanced sailing classes starting in June.

Students can progress through the classes to any level of competence they desire. Instructors are U.S. Sailing Association certified. The Larsen fleet of J22 and J24 sailing craft are used as the hands-on classroom out on Lake Michigan.

Each course consists of four four-hour lessons. Weekday courses meet on Monday through Thursday. Weekend courses consist of two consecutive Saturdays and Sundays.

Morning and afternoon times are available for both weekdays and weekends. Course fees start at $300.

"The school is an easy, affordable way to improve your sailing skills," said program Director Kathy Larsen Sivia.

"Sailing can be a very peaceful, relaxing experience or an exciting, challenging one. We want to help more people learn to enjoy sailing," she said.

Graduates of the beginner class and those enrolled in higher levels are eligible to rent boats from Larsen's popular J22 and J24 keelboat class.

More information about class schedules and admission is available from Sivia at Larsen Marine Service at 336-5456. Classes are expected to fill up quickly.

A valiant effort came up short as College of Lake County's women's softball team settled for a fourth-place finish in the state tourney.

The Lancers were shutout by Kankakee 9-0 and then lost a 9-inning heartbreaker 10-9 to South Suburban. It was the second straight fourth-place finish for CLC at the state finals at College of DuPage.

"I can't complain. Anytime we took the field, I had confidence about the seventh inning," Coach Sue Garcia said.

Beth Smith suffered the loss in both games for CLC (33-17).

"We had 7 errors in the first game and we only had three hits. We just did not play well against Kankakee," Garcia said.

CLC led 3-0 in the South Suburban game, but the Bulldogs scored 7 times in the third inning for a 9-3 lead.

April Kilman tripled, was sacrificed home by Terilyn Starkey and after two walks, Kelly Damron provided the clutch 2-run single for a 9-9 tie.

Visions of the national tourney chance staying alive were dashed with a South Suburban ninth-inning run.

Damron was 2-for-5 against South Suburban, while Kilman was 2-for-4. Starkey had half of the 4 hits against Kankakee.

"We wore Smith out. She faced 85 batters Tuesday in 19 innings. She was 25-9 and that was the most wins since I've been here," Garcia said. "She was very consistent, always around the plate."

Did you know that a man can be the winning pitcher in a baseball game even though he never threw a pitch to a batter?... How is this possible?... This actually happened once in a minor league game... A relief pitcher came into the game with 2 out in the top of the 9th... Before throwing a pitch to the plate, he picked the runner off first base retreating the side... Then, his team scored the winning run in the last of the 9th, and so he was the winning pitcher-- without ever throwing a pitch to a batter.

One of the oddest things that ever happened in a major golf tournament happened to pro golfer Tony Jacklin... He was playing in a tournament some years ago and hit a 300-yard long shot that landed right in a spectator's pocket--without any injury to the spectator!

Did you ever wonder what was the smallest crowd ever to see a major league baseball game?... The record low as set at a National League game in 1890 in Pittsburgh... Official paid attendance at that game--6.

I bet you didn't know... For over 14 years, Fohrman Dodge has been arranging purchase plans for military personnel regardless of pay grade or credit history.

PBA midwest pros make annual visit to Hawthorn Lanes

For the fifth consecutive year Hawthorn Lanes will be occupied by a full field of 160 professional bowlers totting upwards of 1,000 bowling balls. With that combination of talent and equipment ready for action, the pins will be in for a beating.

The "Add-a-Bath" Hawthorn Lanes PBA Midwest Regional features 10 games of qualifying for the entire field on May 28 with squads beginning at 8 a.m.

The top 24 bowlers after qualifying continue in a 16 game match play format on May 25, concluding with a stepladder

National tour champion Steve Jaros placed third, followed by Hawthorn Lanes proprietor and three-time national tour champion Bill Spigner, in fourth.

Besides last year's contenders, also expected to compete in the 1994 edition are the Traber brothers, Dave and Dale, who finished first and second, respectively, at the PBA National Championship at Toledo, Ohio in February.

"The quality of talent in our regional tournaments has been extremely high," says Spigner. "Spectators have always had the opportunity to see bowlers in the tournament that they may have recently watched on television."

The tournament may attract even more prominent tour stalwarts this year because the national tour is on break until PBA's summer schedule begins in June. Admission to all sessions is free.

While the established pros receive most of the attention, the bulk of the field will be comprised of the midwest's so called "weekend warriors." These are bowlers who hold down weekday jobs but get plenty of exercise on the weekends, sometimes squeezing in 40 games or more between practice, pro-ams, qualifying and match play.

"You have to be well trained to thrive in a regional tournament format," says Spigner. "Only through practice can a bowler develop his skills and endurance to succeed at this level. Many regional bowlers hope to use their experience at these tournaments as a springboard to the national tour."

The pros first hit the lanes Friday, May 27 for a practice/autograph session from 5 to 6 p.m.

At 7 p.m., a pro-am squad featuring both junior and adult amateur bowlers gets underway. Entry fee for junior bowlers is $18; adults (who shoot for prize money) pay $42.

The adult pro-am, sponsored by Rinella Beverage Company, continues Saturday night after the pros have completed qualifying.

Squads are at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Each entrant received a PBA program book, a Hawthorn Lanes free game coupon and a soft-sided cooler (adults) or a fanny pack (juniors). For more information about the pro-am, call 367-1600.

1994 Condell Golf Open set for June 6

The 1994 Condell Golf Open will swing into action June 6 at Pine Meadow Golf Course in Mundelein. Sponsored by the Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center, the charity event will raise funds for Condell's Cardiology Services through both the golf event and a $10,000 grand prize raffle.

"We're very excited about having the 1994 Golf Open at Pine Meadow this year. It's one of the finest golf courses in the country, and it's centrally located for people in the area. Golfers can easily play in either the morning or the afternoon, take advantage of the free Centre Club pass or go to work for part of the day, and then enjoy the evening festivities," said Bob Schachner, event chairman.

Golfers may tee up at either 7:30 a.m. or 1 p.m. for the shotgun scramble event which features 18 holes of golf with cart, lunch, course time refreshments, first tee gift, golf awards and complimentary range balls, driving range and putting green.

An evening pig roast begins at 6:15 p.m., preceded by the 19th hole with cash bar starting at 5 p.m. Golfers and diners also receive a guest pass for the day to enjoy fitness equipment, aerobic classes, swimming pool and other amenities at the Centre Club in Libertyville.

Cost of the golf/dinner package is $150 per person. The pig roast-only package is $25 per person. Tickets for the grand prize raffle are $50 each with the winner receiving a prize of $10,000. Both individual and group purchases of raffle tickets are welcome. To sign up for the 1994 Golf Open golf/dinner package, dinner-only package or to purchase raffle tickets, contact Diane Feeney at 362-2905, ext. 5640.

Proceeds from the 1994 Golf Open will be used to purchase new technology to diagnose and treat heart disease with possible purchases to include stress test monitors, transducers, echocardiography system and transesophageal echo testing systems.

The Deadline for Obituaries and Death Notices is 5 p.m. on Tuesday.

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The glass slipper did not quite fit.

College of Lake County's baseball team seemed to have a couple of toes in slipper, but a season-old bug-a-boo coupled with some untimely breaks added up to a 10-6 loss to Lincoln Land Community College. The Loggers (34-11) earned the Great Lakes Division Championship and a spot in the NJCAA Junior College World Series.

"Four of their first five runs were due to errors. We had one or two chances to comeback and gain momentum, but we did not do it. The errors made our pitchers throw about 30 more pitches," CLC Coach Gene Hanson said.

The Lancer faithful, and one of the largest crowds of the season watched the Lancers, may have known it would not be the home team's day when: all-Skyway Conference first baseman Kurt Bruksch has a pop up pop out of his glove. And when shortstop Curt Salata, who was part of 33 double plays, mishandles a throw.

CLC (38-21) had a 4-0 lead after one, but would score only twice the remaining 8 innings.

Bruksch delivered the key hit, a double and Tony Junkel had a 2-RBI triple. Heath Cummings had an RBI single.

Lincoln Land scored its first run in the second and added two more after the missed third inning double play.

The pop up to first came in the fifth inning, as the Loggers gained the lead at 5-4 on a sacrifice fly by Brian Graham.

CLC gained a 5-5 tie in the sixth. Scott Ellenwood walked, Tony Junkel singled and Matt Pulaski reached on a fielder's choice as Ellenwood was thrown out at third.

A walk to Cummings loaded the bases and starting pitcher Greg Seiders walked pinch hitter Bret Bowles for a 5-5 tie.

That did not last long, as two doubles, one by three RBI man Graham and the other by Jeff Schmoche gave the Loggers the lead.

The Play, as many CLC fans may attest, came in the seventh.

Bob Olson, named the college's spring sports athlete of the season the night before, singled. Bruksch did the same and both runners moved up on a double steal.

Hanson then had Ellenwood bunt, but it was in the air, right to the first baseman. Bruksch was almost on third, and the throw to second ended the CLC season.

The Loggers added 3 runs in the ninth off reliever Scott Lucadello in a 16-hit slugfest.

"I did not want to squeeze bunt, but we were not doing anything," Hanson said. "We had a good bunter."

The sun rose Wednesday and while CLC was not confirming plans to play at Milleton, Tenn., the Lancers have a good start on next year.

"It was a wonderful year. We were basically a freshmen team and we have a good nucleus back next year. We had a lack of intensity at times, but as the year went on they adjusted. Four sophomores have been offered scholarships," Hanson said.

"The fact we got this far," Salata said when asked for highlights.

Lancers get to H(e)art of matter

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The situation would be intimidating for even the top-level major league pitchers.

The bases loaded, two outs, and your team clinging to a 3-2 lead. What made it more important for the College of Lake County and hurler Derek Hart was the season was on the line. A mistake could end thoughts of the junior college world series quickly.

With Lincoln Land's Mike Angeli at third after a double, Jeff Schmoche at second after an infield single and Sean Moser at first base after an intentional walk, Hart got Greg Seiders to pop up to Heath Cummings well into foul territory.

The out inspired the freshman from Round Lake in the ninth, as he fanned two batters as CLC celebrated once again with a 3-2 win.

"I knew the biggest thing for myself and the team was to win the second game," Hart said. "I stepped it up and pitched my best game."

Hart knew the pressure was on him after his team's 1-0 loss to the Springfield college in game one. Hart was clocked at 82 MPH as he registered his most important and eighth win in 10 decisions.

"I was not down about the first game. It would have been nice to win it. We were not surprised when we did it. The kids played well. We need to pick up a little on the hitting," CLC Coach Gene Hanson said.

"It was Derek Hart on the mound and our defense," Hanson said.

Lincoln Land, who came in as the favorite for another trip to the NJCAA World Series in Memphis May 21-28, had runners on base in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings but could not get the tying run home.

The Loggers pounded Hart early, with 5 hits and two runs.

Hart may have to buy Tony Junkel a big steak for his efforts in the second inning. Moser sent a flyball his way in the second inning and Brian Graham took off from third base. Junkel fired a strike to catcher Steve Taylor for a double play.

"It felt great. That was the first opportunity I have had to throw someone out at home," Junkel said.

Junkel had an RBI single in the first inning. The freshman from Kenosha, Wis., had to overcome a knee injury.

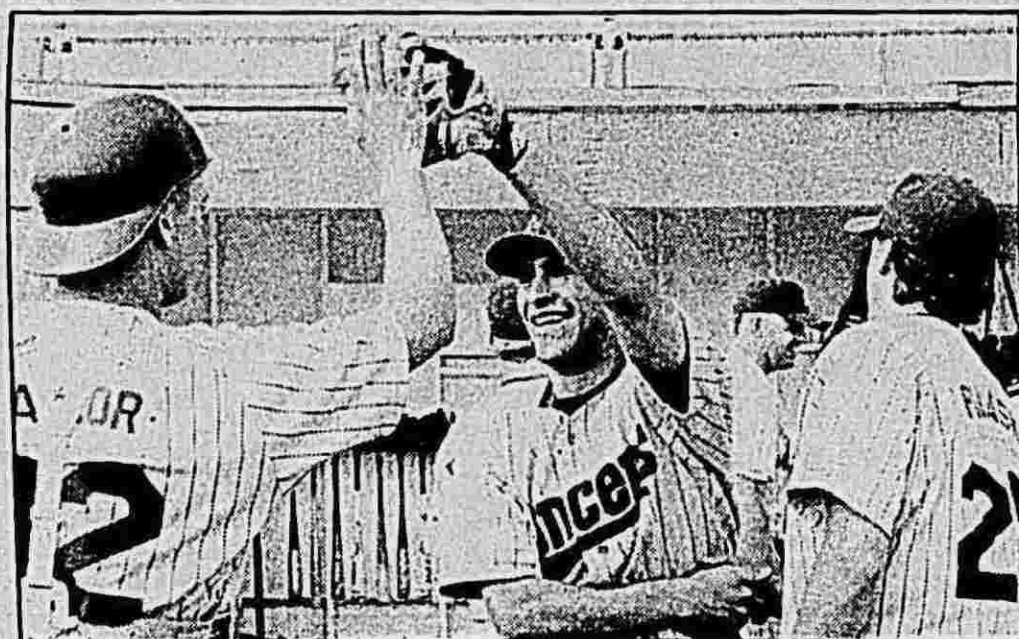

Dean Clark started the CLC (38-19) first with a walk and stole second. Bob Olson singled and Kurt Bruksch then reached on an infield hit. Bret Bowles was hit by a pitch, setting the stage for Junkel.

Matt Pulaski, a Warren grad, had a key double to complete the CLC scoring.

The Lancers would be held to single hits in the next two innings. A key double play took the home team out of a scoring chance in the seventh.

CLC's best chance to score in the first game came in the sixth. Taylor, Olson and Bruksch walked, but a ground ball out ended the frame.

But long by 4:30 p.m. Monday, that was long forgotten as CLC made school baseball history.

CLC's storybook season provides many a highlight

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

It would be the easiest thing in the world to do.

To second guess, that is and in baseball, we, fans and players alike, are all guilty of that at one time or another. It would be easy to forget the 38 wins, the last three which brought the College of Lake County farther in playoff history than it ever had been before.

It would be easy to forget the many all-Skyway Conference and all Region IV honors, led by Kurt Bruksch and Bob Olson.

"Our bunting has been excellent 85 to 90 percent of the time," Hanson said before a 10-6 loss to Lincoln Land which eliminated CLC from the NJCAA baseball playoffs.

Ironically, it was a bunting situation which cost the Lancers a comeback chance.

All-Skyway Conference honors were won by Bruksch, Dean Clark, Heath Cummings, Derek Hart, Olson, Curt Salata and Dan Torresin.

The Lancers, though, had advanced farther than the 1981 team which played in the sectional tourney but lost in three games. CLC fans of that bygone era will recall the exploits of shortstop Vince Pearce of Waukegan; outfielder Mioke Gertz of Waukegan; pitcher Kelly Blake of Round Lake and outfielder Ed Sedar of Waukegan.

Another point of irony, that team, 13 years ago, was eliminated by another southern Illinois powerhouse, Lindbergh High near St. Louis.

"In 1981, we had an overpowering offensive team. We hit for average and power and the pitching was solid," Hanson said.

This year's heroes include Olson, the Warren grad with a .470 batting average with 13 home runs, 3 triples and 13 doubles before the final game with the Lincolnland Land team. Bruksch, named team MVP, had 20 doubles, 3 triples and 8 homers and hit .440. Clark, MVP of the tourney games with Blackhawk, hit .389 with 7 home runs, 6 triples and 6 doubles.

The pitching staff was something to be remembered. The '94 team, again before Tuesday's season-ending loss, had Torresin with a 6-4 mark with a 2.61 ERA; Hart was 7-2 with a 3.26 ERA; Bret Bowles, the hard-luck 1-0 loser in the first game to Lincoln Land, was 5-1 with a 2.57 ERA. Scott Lucadello was 5-1 with a 6.57 ERA.

"Our fielding was not that good until out last 10 games of the season," Hanson said.

First baseman Bruksch had a .975 fielding average; outfielder Clark was at .946 and second baseman Matt Pulaski at .936.

Bruksch, Cummings and Olson were the top three RBI hitters.

"The nice thing is we have nine guys with 24-31 RBIs," Hanson said.

The mood was upbeat, if not thrilled at the CLC sports banquet Monday night. Awards were handed out, pats on the back accepted for splitting with a team favored to make another trip to the National Junior College World Series.

"I like our chances a lot," Hanson said.

By 3:52 p.m. Tuesday, all that, including a 4-0 first inning lead and thoughts of Memphis, were dashed by a dose of 10-6 reality caused by a more aggressive, if not, on this breezy day, more talented team.

But now is the time to recall 38 victories in 61 games on a record-setting team, not pointing fingers.
